THE BANK OF EAST TENNESSEE

By

FRANK A. TANNEWITZ, A.N.A. No. 36220

ONE of the greatest values of the A.N.A. is the advancement of knowledge in numismatics and the dissemination of that knowledge. Affiliation with the A.N.A. and an interest in the history of Tennessee has helped to bring this little endeavor into being. Specifically, the acquisition of a three dollar bill of the Bank of East Tennessee whetted a desire in this writer that has led to many hours of pleasant research and learning in both history and numismatics.

The Bank of East Tennessee was an interesting organization that existed in the eastern part of the state for about 10 years prior to the Civil War. It actually came into being on December 27, 1843, when the legislature of Tennessee passed the act of incorporation.¹ This action took place when James C. Jones was governor of the state and John Tyler was our President.

The charter of the bank limited its capital to $800,000 but allowed the institution to begin operations "as soon as 1,500 shares of the capital stock of the Bank of East Tennessee shall have been subscribed."² Each share of stock required the payment of $10 at the time of subscription; therefore, the bank's minimum operating capital would have been only $15,000. This small sum must have been difficult to raise as the bank did not begin operations until about 1850.

The following article in a leading Knoxville newspaper, The Brownlow Whig, gives an informative account of the bank's beginning:

"This institution (Bank of East Tennessee) has recently gone into active operation under circumstances every way favorable. East Tennessee has long felt the need of a bank managed independently of a parent bank at Nashville; our commercial interests being every way distinct from theirs. By putting in circulation a goodly number of small notes, of the denominations of one, two and three dollars, redeemable in specie at this counter; and by furnishing exchange in convenient sums, and at moderate rates, the Bank of East Tennessee promises to be of no small advantage to this community, and to this entire division of our state. Indeed we predict, with perfect confidence, that in two or three years, at most, it will be considered the best bank in Tennessee, in all material respects.

"We have seen specimens of the notes of this new bank, which are truly very neat in their style and execution, and they are so skillfully engraved that it will be very difficult successfully to counterfeit them. The paper is beautiful, light, it is true, but the better calculated to wear. From the likeness of 'Old Zack,' (Zachary Taylor) at the right hand end of the one dollar bills and an equally beautiful and correct figure of 'Old Hal' (Henry Clay) upon the right hand ends of the fives and twenties, we conclude that the bank has fallen under a Whig administration. The admirers of Dr. Franklin will find him figuring on the left hand of the twenties, 'as large as life and twice as natural.' The tens are adorned with a most excellent likeness of the 'Father of his Country,' while upon the two, the friends of internal improvement will find a 'First Class Engine,' propelling a train of freight cars at the rate of twenty miles per hour!

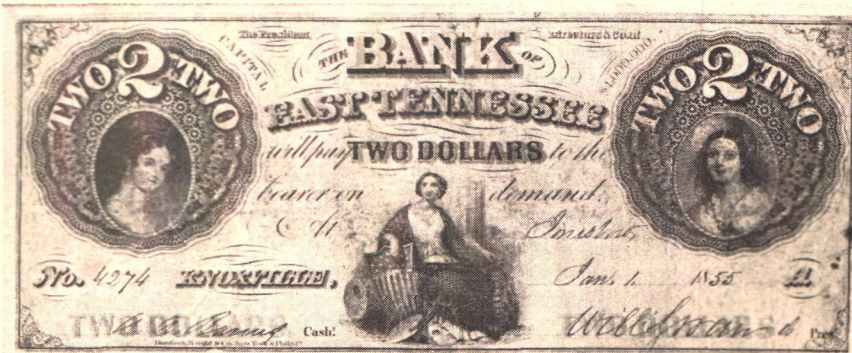

"Dr. J. W. Paxton is president, and Col. Hugh L. McClung is cashier, and so long as they continue at the head of affairs, enjoying as they will, the counsel and advice of one of the best financiers in the South-Western Country, who is himself a principal stockholder, there can be no doubt that the bank will be safely and judiciously managed. And such is the faith of most of the banks and their branches in this state, which are receiving the notes of this bank on deposit. Their banking house is the one formerly occupied as the 'State Bank,' and more recently as the 'Railroad Bank,' on the corner of Main and Gay Streets. The house has undergone the necessary repairs."³

To date no notes as listed in the article are known by the writer to exist bearing the signature of Dr. Paxton as president. It is known, however, that the administration of Dr. Paxton lasted only about one year because a charter of the bank now in the files of the Lawson-McGee Library, Knoxville, dated 1851, lists J. W. J. Niles as president and Hu McClung as cashier. The administration of Niles lasted about two years and fortunately some of its issues are known to exist today.

Under the Niles administration some notes are known to have been issued to match the description in the article just quoted. A one and a two dollar bill are known, printed by Wellstood, Benson & Hanks (1848-51) of New York. The Whig article of February 16, 1850, gave no description of a three dollar bill, but its existence is known. The center vignette of this note is of a small girl within an oval, on the right end a woman is seated, and to the left the word THREE is printed in block letters. This note was issued on the parent bank in Knoxville. Because the extant notes are faded, they are hard to read but seem to bear the date November 1, 1852.

Several of the notes described in the Whig article were issued under a later administration of the bank and dated October 1, 1854. These notes also were printed by Wellstood, Benson and Hanks of New York City. They were signed by W. M. Churchwell as president and by A. A. Barnes as cashier. At this time Churchwell was not only serving as president of the bank but as a member of the United States Congress as well.

Sometime in early 1854 the bank was bought by Churchwell and this administration of the bank lasted approximately three years. One historian⁴ said that this era of the bank was one of wild speculation and, based upon the known availability of notes in 1964, the statement apparently is true.

The first issue of notes under Churchwell and Barnes was dated May 1, 1854, in denominations of $1, $2, $3 and $5. The dollar note had a center vignette of a train and a portrait of Hugh Lawson White, president of the first Bank of Tennessee, in an oval on the right. The $2 shows a man reclining with one arm resting on an anvil and holding a sledge hammer, and in the other hand a yardstick. There is also a $3 note with two women shown, one holding a sword and the other a tablet and pencil. In an oval at the extreme right is a portrait of Hugh Lawson White. The $5 note of this series shows White in an oval at the left, George Washington in the center surrounded by flags and cannon, and a train scene on the right.

All the notes of May, 1854 show the May 1st, 185... printed, with the figure 4 being written in along with the point of redemption. All the known notes were payable at the Jonesboro branch of the bank and the city was written in. These are the first notes of the Bank of East Tennessee to be payable at Jonesboro and the first information we have that the branch had been opened as provided for in the charter. May, 1854 is four years after the bank began its operations and it was doing business under its third president. This series of notes was printed by Wellstood, Hanks, Hay & Whiting (1852-55) of New York.

Only five months later another issue of notes was made, these being dated October 1, 1854. As with the previous issue, the date was printed except for the last digit which was written in. Most of the notes of this series were issued on the Jonesboro branch, others being on the Chattanooga branch and giving the first evidence to us that this branch has been opened. One other new item of information is learned from these notes when it is observed that some of them are signed by Will Swan as president. It is not known at this time whether all denominations were issued by both branches and signed by both men. Little is known of the services of Swan as president except that an item in the Knoxville Whig of October 6, 1855, refers to him as president pro tem with no explanation for the service.

Just three months later, probably the greatest issue of notes made by the bank took place. They were dated January 1, 1855, and all known notes show the date to be pen written except for the first two digits. This series was printed by the firm of Danforth, Wright & Co. (1853-59) of New York and Philadelphia. Many varieties, places of issue and signatures show up in this series.

The issues on the Jonesboro branch signed by Churchwell and Barnes consist of a $1 note with center vignette of Andrew Jackson; $2 with Dolly Madison in the left oval and Bonnie Kate Sevier (Mrs. John Sevier) in the right hand oval; $5 with three angels and the figure of liberty standing to the left holding a shield; another $5 note with two large Vs on either end; and a $20 note with two Greek heads on either end.

The other issues on the Jonesboro branch were signed by Will Swan. The $1 has Jackson in the center oval; the $2 has Madison and Sevier; $3 has the state seal in the center oval and large 3s on each end; the $5 has the three angels and liberty to the left; $10 has James K. Polk in the oval on the right (Polk was U. S. President and also a Tennessee governor) and on the left John C. Calhoun, senator from South Carolina.

The Chattanooga issues present are interesting in that some notes were signed by one J. A. Whiteside as president of the bank. To date, however, Whiteside cannot be connected with the Bank of East Tennessee in any other manner than through these notes. Whiteside was one of the early pioneers of Chattanooga and could almost be called its father. His importance to the city is beyond question but the search of several biographies and other material fails to reveal any official or unofficial connection with the bank. Whiteside undoubtedly was associated with the bank because of both his ability and his good name and because during this period he was associated with several railroad ventures in and around Chattanooga. Only one $5 bill, the issue with the large Vs and dated January 1, 1855, is known with his signature.

The Chattanooga notes signed by Will Swan were a $5 with the angels and liberty and a $20 with the Greek heads. The notes signed by Churchwell were a $2 with Madison and Sevier and a $5 with the angels and liberty. The reader's attention is called to the large number of notes described bearing the date January 1, 1855, and the relatively few of any other date.

Few notes were issued after those of January 1, 1855, but at least three are known. These are a $2 issued on the Chattanooga branch, signed by J. A. Whiteside and dated March 1, 1855; a $5 on Chattanooga also and signed by Whiteside but dated May 1, 1855; and a $5 on the Jonesboro branch, signed by Churchwell and dated 1856 (month and day not readable due to fading).

With all these notes being issued one could conclude that the bank was very prosperous. The only known publication of a balance sheet or statement of condition of the bank, appearing in the August 3, 1856 issue of the Brownlow Whig published in Knoxville, would seem to bear this out. It listed the total assets of the bank at $1,013,111.82, not a small sum for a town the size of Knoxville which had a population of about 4,000 at that time. The largest liability was shown as "Circulation - $464,301.00," and this, too, was no small sum for the time.

All seemed to go well for the bank for the next few months, but, alas, the day of accounting arrived - a "run" on the bank began and forced it to suspend specie payment in December, 1856. The suspension of specie payment marked the beginning of the end for the Bank of East Tennessee. Its assets were turned over to be settled by two trustees, Dr. J. G. M. Ramsey, the Tennessee historian, and T. C. Lyon, a well known Knoxville lawyer of the time. During the period of settlement the value of the issues of the bank fell until they could be purchased at 15 and 20 cents on the dollar; and law suits caused many accusations and much ill feeling in Knoxville and surrounding territory.

The coup de gras to the prestige of the bank came during the Civil War when some of its notes were cut into smaller pieces with notes of the Bank of Chattanooga, dated August, 1862, printed on the backs. The printing of the word "good" in large letters on these notes was most ironic, indeed. Thus ended the usefulness of the Bank of East Tennessee except for its value a 100 years later to numismatists and students of history.

THE UNITED STATES MINT AT SAN FRANCISCO

THE discovery of gold at Coloma (Sutter's mill) by John Marshall, in 1848, was the world-echoing event which contributed to the recommendation by President Millard Fillmore in 1850 that a branch mint be established in California. Gold being mined in the hills had grown from a trickle to a deluge too heavy for facilities at the distant Philadelphia mint to handle and much time was consumed in transporting the precious metal on its hazardous journey. The coinage situation in the West was in a chaotic state. Many different kinds circulated — French louis d'ors, Dutch guilders, Indian rupees, Mexican reals, English shillings, as well as our own American pieces — but even so, there was a scarcity, and gold dust, while acceptable was not a convenient medium of exchange. To remedy the difficulty, private mints sprang up which converted the gold into coins, but this was not the solution to the problem.

The United States mint at San Francisco, Calif., was authorized by the act of Congress approved July 3, 1852, and the coins produced there gradually replaced the miscellaneous assortment in circulation. In his report written January 27, 1854, the director of the mint stated:

"The branch mint at San Francisco, California, it is expected will be ready to receive deposits and commence operations about the 1st of March next. In consequence of a change in the grade of the street on which the building is being erected, more time will be consumed in its completion than was anticipated. The machinery, which was constructed in Philadelphia, arrived there in good condition on the 12th of December last; but a portion of the fixtures and apparatus had not arrived on December 30th, the date of my last advices, the vessel containing them having been out one hundred and forty-five days. These circumstances will probably delay the commencement of coining operations until the time stated above. The coins to be issued by this branch of the mint will be designated by the letter S on the reverse. It is proper to remark that the coins of the other branches are designated as follows: New Orleans by the letter O; Dahlonega, D; Charlotte, C. The coins of the principal mint are not marked by any letter."

The mint commenced receiving deposits on the 3rd of April, 1854. There were some causes connected with the supply of materials that retarded and diminished the coinage operations during that year. However, $4,084,207, all in gold pieces, was coined between April and December, 1854.

Operations were conducted in a small building on Commercial St., just 60 square feet. The director remarked: "It is almost impossible to conceive how so much work can be well done, and so much business transacted safely, in so small a space. The entrance to the business office is up a steep pair of stairs and through a dark hall rendered unwholesome by the fumes of acids, and uncomfortable by the noise of machinery and the heat of the engine. The apartments of the different officers and the desks of the clerks are cramped and inconvenient, and the vaults depend for their safety chiefly upon the presence of well-tried watchmen." A notation indicates that there was "obtained also at the customhouse a good lock, which had been sent out from the department and which was placed upon the vault in the treasurer's office, where it was urgently needed."

About 10 years later, the suggestion was made that there be purchased "a suitable site upon which should be speedily erected a mint building creditable to the Government, and commensurate with the wants of the great mineral districts of the Pacific Coast." It was not until 1872-73, however, that the building was completed and the work of fitting up the necessary machinery, fixtures and apparatus was begun. The new mint at 5th and Mission was occupied in the summer of 1874, and was one of the best appointed mints in the world. It was first considered unnecessarily large but the director stated that "... in fitting it up with a refining and coining capacity equal to the present demand it has been found necessary to occupy the entire building."

The work of the San Francisco mint was interrupted by the great earthquake of April 18, 1906. The structure and its contents were saved from the fire by intelligent and courageous work on the part of the superintendent and employes, but as the fuel used for its melting, annealing, and assaying operations was city gas, the destruction of the gas works made a discontinuance of operations necessary. Moreover, the mint by reason of the destruction of the subtreasury and all of the banks of the city, became the only financial institution able to do business in the city and the agency through which all remittances to and from the city, and disbursements within the city were made. The mint became the depository and treasury for the relief fund, and its superintendent, Frank A. Leach, had many new and very important responsibilities suddenly thrust upon him, all of which were borne with fidelity and signal ability.

The steadily increasing demands of the nation made mandatory the enlarging of minting facilities, and in the summer of 1937, San Francisco personnel made another move, this time into an imposing three-story marble edifice some distance from the principal business center where the old building was located. The approximately 33,000 square feet of space housed the most modern facilities of the day and new equipment to replace worn and obsolete machinery.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia and Denver mints were being improved and it was the feeling that these expanded facilities would be adequate to meet the nation's coin demand for some time to come. Therefore, in March of 1955, coinage operations at San Francisco were discontinued. The equipment was removed and most of the building was remodelled for occupancy by other agencies of the government. Only a small area was retained by the mint for the conduct of assay functions, including receipts of gold and silver deposits.

During the fall of 1963, it became apparent that a coin shortage was building up, and by July of 1964, emergency measures had been adopted to relieve the situation. One of these measures was the utilization of space in the San Francisco mint building, a part of which was reacquired and adapted once again to mint use. The vital function of supplying coin blanks for the stamping presses at Denver was commenced, and today there is the old familiar hum and clang of machinery as the work force busies itself with the production of 1-cent and 5-cent blanks from commercially produced strip. The Denver mint can thus provide more coin than would otherwise be possible.

The building does not have facilities to accommodate visitors. However, back in the days when this was possible, the visitor's register bore such notable signatures as Sarah Bernhardt, William Cullen Bryant, Henry Ward Beecher, General Grant, Marjory Rambeau, Rutherford B. Hayes, and Mark Twain, to name but a few.

NEW VIETNAM COINS

The National Bank of Vietnam announced recently that new 1 and 10 dong (piastre) coins will be issued this year. The decree authorizing their circulation will be published at a later date. This will be the first minting of new coins since the 50 xu (half piastre) issue in 1963. One dong notes were issued in 1964, but many Vietnamese in low income groups indicated a greater preference for coins. The 10 dong coin will be the first of this denomination to be issued by the Republic. — (Courtesy of David G. Briggs, R35098)

Houston Convention Gala Finale

Though it isn't finale time, we've kept quiet long enough. It is high time we let you in on the exciting plans for the closing event of the 74th A.N.A. convention. If you've been toying with the idea of skipping this convention, please do yourself a favor and drop such thoughts. This gay and most unusual gala has been planned by Felice and Hirsh Schwartz. Without spoiling your fun, here are some highlights. You will surely agree that the planners have worked with a single purpose: your pleasure.

A more exotic setting for a social hour cannot be found than poolside at the Shamrock Hilton where you will gather at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, August 28. Our honored guests will be the newly elected A.N.A. president and his lady. While sipping refreshments we will be entertained with an aquatic show. This water spectacular features the Corkettes — Texas beauties performing beautifully. This trophy winning swim team will present a colorful water ballet, exciting formations in the water and exhibition diving.

A water ski show will follow. Water skiing in a swimming pool! That's right. Champion skiers will zoom around the pool behind a fifteen-foot motor boat. Spills, thrills, laughs, lovely girls and a new moon — who could ask for more? But this is just the hors d'oeuvres. Your hosts will escort you into the Emerald ballroom for the second phase of this fun-filled evening.

Our young men pages will be on hand to seat you for the banquet.

Felice and Hirsh Schwartz

Dining to the strains of soft music is always delightful. This treat will be provided by the muted strings of a noted ensemble. If our genial master of ceremonies, "Curly" Mitchell, interrupts now and then, you won't mind because his quips add spice to any meal. Hirsh has promised solemnly that speeches will be conspicuous by their absence. Introductions have been pared to the minimum — we all know each other, don't we?

Arrangements have been made for professional entertainment that promises to be both nostalgic and mirthful. Then it is dance time, so strike up the band! Do tarry with us a bit longer. You will not be able to resist the toe tapping music. Whether you dance, chitchat or just relax, we want you to enjoy every minute of this closing gala.

Suddenly, the last minute is here. As we think it over, we conclude that Shakespeare must have dreamed of our convention when he wrote: "Welcome ever smiles, and farewell goes out sighing." — DORIS MARTIN, Publ. Chm.

NEW COINAGE METALS DEVELOPED BY FRANKLIN MINT

The Franklin mint, a privately owned facility of General Numismatics Corporation, revealed today that it has developed two new coinage metals for special applications. For "prestige" coins, it has developed a new laminated "metal sandwich" consisting of a nickel-silver core protected on both sides by bonded layers of sterling silver. This unusual combination will be identified by the trade name Sterling Plus and will be described as "reinforced sterling." According to Joseph M. Segel, president of GNC, Sterling Plus has the same unique surface appearance and color as solid sterling silver, but can be produced at about one-third the cost.

The Franklin mint has also developed an exclusive nickel-columbium alloy, which will be identified by the trade name Franklinium. This alloy contains more than three times the percentage of pure nickel as the common cupro-nickel alloy, which is used in United States nickels and in the coins of many other countries. In addition, Franklinium contains a small measure of a special ingredient which will enable coins made of this exclusive alloy to be distinguished from coins made of any other alloy by a Spectrometer. There will be several modified formulations of the basic Franklinium alloy. They will be known as Franklinium 1, Franklinium 2, etc.

The Franklin mint is now preparing to strike a limited issue of 2,500 serially numbered proof sets, each set to contain one of the first proof "coins" made of Sterling Plus and one of the first proof "coins" made of Franklinium 1. The design on the obverse of these crown size pieces is a new bust of Benjamin Franklin sculptured by former U.S. mint chief engraver, Gilroy Roberts. The inscription will read "THE FRANKLIN MINT — 1965," and the bust will feature Gilroy Roberts' distinctive mark, which also appears on the Kennedy half dollar. The first 2,000 of these special proof sets will be reserved for stockholders of General Numismatics Corporation, with a limit of one set to each stockholder, and any excess plus the remaining 500 sets will be presented to various dignitaries around the world. None of these sets will be offered by GNC for public sale.

A Nevada gaming casino has placed an order for 250,000 large crown size tokens to replace scarce silver dollars for their dollar slot machines. These "coins" will be the first made of Franklinium.

Because of the shortage of silver dollars, Nevada gaming casinos were recently authorized by the Nevada gaming commission and the Nevada legislature to convert their dollar slot machines to accept only privately-struck "coins." Each casino taking advantage of this new law must have a coin of its own design that is different in size and appearance from a silver dollar. The slot machines must also be converted so that they will now only take the privately-struck coins and reject silver dollars. Furthermore, each casino must agree to redeem the privately-struck coins it issues only when presented for redemption by players on its premises, so that the privately-struck coins do not become a "medium of exchange" in Nevada.

NEW TYPE VIET CONG NOTE

Currency bearing portraits of Ho Chi Minh, the North Vietnamese communist leader, is being used by the Viet Cong in several areas of South Vietnam. This example is a ten piastre note found in the province of My Tho, south of Saigon. On the front it bears the inscription "Democratic Republic of Vietnam" in Vietnamese and in Chinese characters. The note is signed on the front by the "Director of the Treasury of South Vietnam, Representing the Director of the National Treasury." It is signed on the back by the "Chairman of the Resistance Administrative Committee of South Vietnam, Representing the Ministry of Finance."

There is a notation that it is valid only in My Tho province. In addition to the portrait of Ho Chi Minh, it bears a picture symbolizing construction and progress on the front and a picture of an ambush against a convoy on the back. Use of similar currency by the Viet Cong has been reported in the provinces of Dinh Tuong, Kien Hoa, and Ninh Thuan.

The note measures 11 x 5.5 cm. It is printed in brown on the obverse and green on the reverse. The serial numbers (W.2930 BH) are in red and appear to be hand-stamped. — (Courtesy of David G. Briggs, R35098)

WHAT OTHERS PUBLISH

The master collector of uncut sheets of bank notes, Frank F. Sprinkle, Box 864, Bluefield, W. Va., has published the booklet Master List of Uncut Sheets of Obsolete Bills and Old Bank Checks. While not so stated in the booklet, we suspect that Sprinkle's collection includes most of the sheets listed, although he acknowledges the help of a dozen well known numismatists. Under state headings, the sheets are listed by cities and banks, indicating the note denominations in each sheet and the printer's name. He avoids estimated values by classifying each sheet as "common," $5 to $15; "scarce," $20 to $50; or "rare," $75 and up. In all, about 1,000 sheets are listed. The booklet should be of value to collectors of the old bank notes, whether in sheets or singly.

Argonaut, Inc., 737 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611, has added another fine book to its continuing series on antiquities. This one, Alexander the Great in Greek and Roman Art by Margarete Bieber, illus., 98 pp., hardbound, $7.50, adds to our knowledge of the subject. Archaeology became an important factor in filling the gaps in our knowledge of the history of Alexander the Great and his empire. From every part of the ancient world sculpture, coins and inscriptions have come to light adding new and valuable bits to the skeleton outline of Alexander's conquests already known to us. Alexander is one of the few ancient figures known in a great number of excellent portraits, most of which can be positively identified. From the representations on coins, rings, emblems, gems and mosaics, to the fine sculptures echoing the style of such great masters as Lysippos, Leochares and Apelles, a continuous line can be constructed which is of the utmost value in the reconstruction of art history of the Hellenistic and Roman worlds. No one is better qualified to trace this course and classify the known portraits of Alexander the Great than Margarete Bieber, the acknowledged authority on Hellenistic sculpture.

G. F. Hill's Ancient Greek and Roman Coins: a Handbook, $10, 1964. 318 pp., 31 text illus., Argonaut, Inc., 737 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611, is ideal for anyone interested in a study or collection of ancient Greek and Roman coins. But it is also a bible for the advanced numismatist who will refer to it often to refresh his memory or to consult its charts and tables. Though first published years ago, Hill's handbook is still a leading book on the subject of Greek and Roman coins, a fact to which all numismatists attest. Here in one book are the answers to thousands of questions on ancient coinage. How did the ancients prevent forgery? What were the metals used? How did the use of coins begin? What do those Greek and Latin inscriptions say? How can you identify coins, chronologically and geographically? Every area of numismatic interest has a special chapter devoted to it, and there is a section on the general history of coinage in Greece and Rome. There are also 16 plates containing illustrations of 177 different ancient coins for comparative studies. This enlarged edition contains a new and additional bibliography of books published in the recent years, an appendix about art treasures illustrated on ancient coins, a new plate showing 12 coins and a short preface.

More than 7,000 price changes, hundreds of additional listings, and dozens of new illustrations make the expanded edition (now 288 pages) of The Catalogue of the World's Most Popular Coins by Fred Reinfield and Burton Hobson, Sterling, $6.95, 1964, up-to-date and comprehensive. Retained in this edition are such features as the "finder section" for difficult-to-identify coins, alphabetical arrangements of countries, and descriptive captions for the coin listings. The large page size permits the reader to study and compare a significant part of each nation's coinage at one time. Listings range from coins of ancient Greece, circa 750 B.C., to new issues of Greece and Denmark celebrating the royal wedding of King Constantine and Princess Anne-Marie. Valuations shown for each coin are current dealers' prices—the price now being charged for similar coins in their stock. — ELSTON G. BRADFIELD

"The Hasty Cataloger"

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I was quite amused by the article by "Scepticus" on "The Hasty Cataloger" in the March issue of The Numismatist.

Being one of the collectors who does possess Kingin Zuroka, quoted on page 334, I checked it with the following results:

(a) It was published in Tokyo, not Osaka as stated, in 1810, not 1811.

(b) In checking "vol. 3" I find that there is not a single "koban" in that volume, altho a number are to be found in the other volumes comprising this work.

Comment similar to that of Scepticus could be made in almost every auction catalog in which East Asian coins, my specialty, are to be found. Take for instance, the Schulman-

Kreisberg catalog of their sale for 11-13 March:

(c) Lot 1541 describes a striking of the Vienna mint which is the product of the U.S. mint at Philadelphia. This is readily recognized as the junk has an "eye" at the stern as well as at the bow.

(d) Lot 2940 described as a Yunnan pattern is in fact a product of the Tientsin mint, is not a pattern but the ½ li coin regularly struck for the smallest denomination of the Hsuan T'ung issue of 1911. Yunnan is a thousand miles or more from Tientsin, and there is not a single Chinese character on the piece remotely referring to Yunnan. — H. F. BOWKER

Casey, San Angelo; John Hill, Temple; Bill Manewal, Dallas; Lloyd Buss, Port Arthur; Frank O'Sullivan, San Antonio; Joe B. Davis, Corpus Christi; R. E. Medlar, Lubbock; and Charles R. Vice, El Paso. Mrs. Wally Gilmore, Weslaco, was reappointed TNA News editor and publicity director.

The round of convention activities began Thursday evening at a reception honoring the 65 visiting dealers and their wives. Friday morning found 30 guests at brunch in the Rincón Room to hear A.N.A. Vice President Matt H. Rothert of Camden, Ark., speak on four ways to collect coins, currency and medals. The Outrigger's Room was filled Saturday morning with over 90 TNA members and guests for the annual governor's and club representative's breakfast for general discussions of new ideas for the hobby and existing problems on the numismatic scene.

Sixty persons attended a luncheon when Frank O'Sullivan spoke on women portrayed on ancient coins. Highlighting the convention program was the educational forum Saturday evening where 175 persons gathered to hear Mrs. Margo Russell of Coin World talk on the past, present and what we wish for the future of the hobby; and Clyde Hubbard of Mexico City speak on eight reales of the Mexican Republic.

A record attendance of 120 were present for the Sunday morning awards breakfast with General Chairman Joe B. Davis presiding. Special guest speaker was Cab Atkins of Centralia, Mo., publisher of Cab's Coin Collector. Clarence Davis presented the film "A Trip Through the Denver Mint" to the TNA memorial library, its purchase having been a project initiated by the Liberty Coin Club, with donations from other South Texas clubs. Mrs. Homer B. Casey received the Lewis Reagan Memorial Award given to the TNA member contributing the most to Texas numismatics the previous year. Hirsh Schwartz won the K. K. Tidwell literary award for the article of highest merit published in the TNA News, "The History of the One Dollar Bill."

Winners in the youth project, based on points won during the year by exhibiting at shows in the state, were Larry Tester, 1st, Billie Johns, 2nd, and Ronnie Poff, 3rd. Presentations were made by Mrs. Chris Johns who is in charge of youth activities. The annual Bill and Chris Johns special junior exhibit award went to young Robinson, and Joe Davis received the Harvey Bruns exhibit award on Mexican coins. This special honor, which may not be won by the same exhibitor two years in succession, was introduced at this convention.

New Coinage Metal

The International Nickel Co. recently announced that it has developed a new metal alloy which is particularly suited for coinage. It is said to be 95% nickel but alloyed and produced with precisely controlled magnetic properties that make it acceptable to the majority of coin-operated mechanisms. Ordinary high-nickel content coins are highly magnetic and cannot be used in vending machines, pay telephones, parking meters, etc., but the new metal has the correct properties to be acceptable. It is claimed that, if this metal was adopted for coins in case silver is discontinued, electronic coin acceptance devices could be developed with even better selectivity than those now in use.

Coin struck of a new material developed by INCO shown with the present U. S. quarter dollar.

The new metal can be produced by a number of rolling mills in this country. Coins made from it are attractive and durable; superior to silver in resistance to tarnish, corrosion and wear; have a good "feel" and "ring"; and are difficult to counterfeit.

First International Anti-Forgeries Congress

The International Association of Professional Numismatists is stepping up its drive against forgers by organizing an International Congress for the Study and Protection against Monetary Forgeries. The group is holding its first Congress in Paris, June 3 to 5, inclusive. The Congress, organized after much preliminary work and planning, is bringing together representatives or virtually all coin enthusiasts and coin lovers. The Congress will comprise three working meetings: A review of the anti-forgery laws of all the countries represented; a special study on the difference between forgeries and second or commemorative mintings; and finally, a session covering the various technical problems facing forgers.

Lumber Company Tokens

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I have just read Bimetallic Tokens Patented in 1899, by Jack Burns, in the April Numismatist. Recently I acquired two metallic tokens of the Doty Lumber Company of Doty, Wash. These are 50c and $1 tokens, with obverse and reverse very similar to the Fribley tokens in plate 4 of the Burns article. The 50c token bears the legend PAT. APPLIED FOR and the $1 piece has the words PAT'D JULY 1899. The obverse of both tokens has DOTY LUMBER CO., WASHINGTON, with stars separating the firm name and Washington. Both have DOTY in the center, the $1 piece having figures resembling a turtle above and below the name. The 50c piece has two dots and a diamond above and below the name. I understand the Doty Lumber Company no longer exists, and I have no information on how these tokens were used. Before World War I many lumber companies operated company stores, or commissaries, and these tokens probably were used in this way.—GEORGE J. KELLER, Myrtle Creek, Ore., A.N.A. No. 40386.

Churchill Crown

For the information of American collectors, Michael S. Millward, managing director of Stewart Ward (Coins) Ltd., London, advises that the design of the Churchill commemorative crown has not been made nor approved, hence the coin will not be made "for some months." His letter is dated April 23.

The War Memorial auditorium is spacious, with street level entrances. Adequate lighting is provided and air conditioning is available when needed; armed guard security will be adequate, and plain clothes men will be on hand for the safety of collections. Catering service will be available, primarily for the bourse dealers. Phony and altered date material and counterfeit money will not be permitted at this show.

All persons attending must register but there will be no admission charge. All bourse tables probably will be taken before the opening date, as nearly all have been reserved at this writing. E. J. Schermett, RCDA national chairman, has worked hard to make this one of the finest conventions and hopes you will come to Syracuse June 24-27.

Israel Coin Deliveries Slow

In a recent letter to Max M. Schwartz, A.N.A. LM 80, Director Robert Weber of the New York office of Israel Government Coins and Medals Corp. explained some of the problems of filling orders promptly. Weber asked assistance in clarifying the reasons for delays in some cases in the delivery to collectors of Israel numismatic items.

"Our U. S. office, since its inception, has served the public by forwarding orders for Israel medals to Jerusalem for shipment by our head office," said Weber. "We acknowledge such orders with a postcard, informing the public that delivery today takes about 8 weeks. The demand for Israel numismatics in recent weeks has placed a heavy administrative burden on our staff, despite the tripling of our personnel in the last two months.

"Our office receives over 500 letters daily," he continued, "half of which are orders and half requests for catalogs and information. This intense activity has swamped our head office in Jerusalem, with the result that an inevitable back log in deliveries has been created. Nonetheless, our main consideration remains to provide U. S. and Canadian collectors the highest consideration and the best service possible under the circumstances."

COIN Convention June 18-20

Exhibit applications for the Convention of International Numismatics in the Los Angeles Ambassador Hotel will be received until all space is filled, according to Harold G. Bavaird, 695 Las Casas Ave., Pacific Palisades, Calif. 90272. A fee of $5, which includes a ticket to the awards breakfast and a participation award, must accompany each exhibit application. As stated in previous publicity in the April and May issues, no U.S. material will be included in any exhibits.

General Chairman Harvey L. Rose promises representatives of most of the major dealers in foreign coins, both in and out of the U.S., will be in the bourse of about 70 tables. Many other prominent dealers will attend. Famous collections are assured in the exhibit area of 22,000 square feet. Other dealers and collectors will be attracted by the quarter million dollar auction, featuring seldom offered world coin rarities, to be conducted by Don Seibert, P. O. Box 11221, Houston, Texas. The six sponsoring organizations will present educational programs and color travelogue movies of countries whose coins are represented in the exhibits.

Based on last year's attendance and the greatly expanded interest in collecting foreign coins, medals, tokens and paper money, attendance is expected to exceed that of many conventions held this year.

Shop Talk

Van Horne Coin Exchange, 1 Place Ville Marie, Montreal 1, Canada, has announced the addition of elaborate photographic facilities for the benefit of its clients. Chief item is one of the five optical comparators in existence especially designed for coin work, and reportedly the only one owned by a private firm. Capable of handling several coins at a time, the instrument permits authentication, recording and grading with unprecedented accuracy. It can make a record of a rare coin so accurate and in such detail as to be future evidence in case the coin is questioned or recovered after being stolen. Other precision cameras and enlargers, and complete darkroom and printing facilities, are under the direction of Swedish born Lennart Koraen, an unusually talented photographer.

1965 "mint" sets are available - in wooden money, that is. Intended for promotional use by clubs and other organizations, the five wooden pieces are sealed in a cello envelope with blue and silver foil "mint" seals. Similar in design and denomination to regular coins, the wooden Lincoln cent is red, the Jefferson 5c is blue, the Roosevelt dime is green, the Washington quarter is purple, and the Kennedy half dollar is black. The sets may be made limited issues by numbering the reverse side of the seals, which are imprinted "1965/MINT/WOODEN/MONEY" on the face. The reverse carries the message and identification of the sponsoring agency. Additional information may be obtained from the creator and manufacturer, Commemorative Arts, 512 Roselynn Ave., Parkersburg, W. Virginia.

Washington, D. C. Schedules Major Coin Show in August

Ben Douglas, general chairman, has announced completion of details for a three-day numismatic show at the Sheraton Park Hotel, Washington, D.C., August 20-22. Nine area clubs have organized the Metropolitan Washington Numismatic Association to sponsor a coin show each year. All profits from this year's event will go to the retarded children's associations in the area. Co-chairman for this first numismatic event are Frank J. Katen and George Sandy. All other chairmen of committees have been appointed with members from all of the area clubs represented. The show auction will be held on August 21 by Tom Warfield of the Mason-Dixon Coin Exchange in Baltimore. A donation auction will be held also and conducted by Joe Gallo.

Arrangements have been completed for the use of Sheraton Hall, one of the famed ballrooms in the United States. Other rooms have been engaged for an extensive exhibition of numismatic material. A select group of dealers will be invited to participate in the bourse. Those interested may contact Tom Warfield, 208 W. Saratoga St., Baltimore, Md.

Registration is set for noon Friday, August 20. An educational program is being planned for Friday evening, and a banquet is scheduled for Saturday evening. Arrangements for women's activities will include a fashion show. The following coin clubs have joined in forming the MWN: Alexandria, Arlington, Cheverly, Fairfax, Montgomery County, Nation's Capital, Office of Secretary of Defense Coin Club, Prince George's County Coin Club, and the Washington Numismatic Society.

Shortage of 1964 Proof Bermuda Crowns

Dear Mr. Sherer:

In view of recent developments as regards the distribution of the 1964 Bermuda crown, I feel that you should know the position adopted by the Bermuda Coin Dealer's Association.

The members of the BCDA were appointed as overseas distributors of the 1964 crown by the Bermuda government. At the time of appointment, we were given an approximate figure by an official of one of the banks. As orders began to pour into our respective companies, we asked for and received a figure in writing. However, due to a misinterpretation regarding the proofs, we found our allotment severely reduced on the day that the proofs were released.

We had no choice but to reduce our orders. This has obviously caused much animosity amongst collectors and dealers in the United States. Because we endeavored to fill small orders to collectors first, the dealers are particularly unhappy about the cut.

I hope this clarifies the position adopted by the BCDA. I assure you, sir, that we have not retained any proofs whatsoever, nor have we reduced any orders to sell those proofs at a higher price. This may be verified by simply going through our books, or having them verified by an accountant as to the truth of this statement.

Several people have threatened to write to A.N.A. concerning the cut in coins. If we may offer any further information, please do not hesitate to write. — G. WARD YOUNG, A.N.A. 53056, Colonial Coin Co., Hamilton, Bermuda.

Colorado-Wyoming Convention

The Colorado-Wyoming Numismatic Association has announced that its 14th annual convention is set for September 24-26 on the campus of the University of Colorado in Boulder. Host for the event is the Boulder Coin Club, with club President Phyllis Smith serving as general chairman. Correspondence concerning the show should be directed to Mrs. Phyllis J.

Smith, 1213 Spruce St., Boulder, Colo. 80302.

Bourse contracts for the show are being handled by Russell W. Wright, secretary-treasurer of the association, who reports that all tables have been reserved. Thomas Mason of Cheyenne was awarded table No. 1 as a result of an auction at last year's convention, the money realized having been donated to the A.N.A. headquarters fund.

An excellent array of awards await those who present winning displays. The best of show award is the association's gold-filled medal, with a sterling medal for second and a nickel-silver piece for third. The best of show in the junior division is a $25 savings bond, donated by the Boulder club. There are other awards for which either junior or senior exhibitors may compete. The auction will be conducted by Howard Hinsey of Arvada, Colo.

The Colorado-Wyoming Numismatic Association invites all collectors, wherever they may be, to attend this show and pay a visit to Boulder, the city at the foot of the Colorado Rockies.

Silver Coin-Tokens Offered

According to a newspaper article, Richard H. Hauck, manager of the foreign education dept. of the Clinton (Conn.) national bank, is offering a set of six silver "coins" to those who donate $25 to a proposed world monies museum. In an effort to raise funds for such a museum in the Clinton area, near New Haven, the bank official said he has obtained Treasury department permission to issue the silver coin-tokens.

RECENT PATRON

As announced in the May issue, Coin World became an A.N.A. patron with a $5,000 donation to aid in carrying on various Association activities. Representing the patron are, l. to r., J. Oliver Amos, publisher; Mrs. Margo Russell, executive editor; Frank B. Wright, advertising director; and Russell Rulau, foreign editor. (Plain Dealer photo)

The six pieces are about the size of a U. S. silver dollar, half-dollar, quarter, dime, five cent piece and one cent. Each one states that it contains the silver value of the coin it represents. For example, the dollar piece states on one side IN COMMEMORATION WORLD MONIES—ONE DOLLAR SILVER VALUE, and on the other FOR THE FOUNDATION OF THE WORLD MONIES MUSEUM. They are dated U.S.A. 1965. The newspaper said that further information might be obtained by writing to Hauck at the Clinton National Bank, Clinton, Conn. — L. C. PERKINS, A.N.A. 34302

New Signature on Paper Money

In a traditional event, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler inspected the first sheet of notes to come off the press with his signature on it April 16. Director Henry J. Holtzclaw of the bureau of engraving and printing supervised the first run, which was a sheet of 32 one dollar Federal Reserve notes. Except for the new signature and the addition of "A" to "Series 1963," the notes are the same as those previously issued in the one dollar denomination for the Federal Reserve banks. The Treasury announced that this will be the initial production from new ultra-modern sheet-fed rotary intaglio presses just installed as part of the bureau's program of technological improvement.

Gould Writing Column

Maurice M. Gould, author of several numismatic books and numerous articles, has started to write a column called "Coin Roundup" for General Features Corp., a leading independent syndicate. According to a recent announcement, the weekend column appears now in 14 newspapers in different cities and towns and is expected to be extended to others. Gould has been seriously interested in coins for over 40 years and a member of A.N.A. since 1937.

It is struck as follows: 25 serially numbered pieces in platinum at $500.00 each, 7,500 serially numbered pieces .999 pure silver at $10.00 each, unlimited quantities in bronze at $2.50 each.

Outstanding Educational Panel at A.N.A. Convention

Three talented numismatists and an able Treasury department official will highlight the educational forum of the American Numismatic Association's 74th convention. The forum will be held at eight o'clock Thursday evening, August 26, in the Emerald room of the Shamrock Hilton hotel. Based on recent educational program attendance, several hundred persons are expected to be on hand as Georgia gold coins, Mexican numismatics, minting techniques, and United States paper money are discussed by the four prominent authorities.

Jackson Bennett, who has been active in numismatic circles for almost two decades, will be the first speaker to appear on the forum. A graduate of the University of California, Bennett returned to it to pursue graduate studies in soil science. Today he resides in Athens, Ga., where he is the director of the southern training center of the Soil Conservation service.

He is well known in numismatic circles for his knowledge of the coins of the West Indies and the Spanish Main, and for his untiring research into the history of Georgia gold. He serves as secretary of the Athens Coin Club; he was vice president of the Atlanta Coin Club in 1957 and 1961, and in 1958 was its president.

The A.N.A. called upon Bennett in 1960 to be an exhibit judge at the Boston convention, and again in 1961 to be chairman of the housing committee for the Atlanta convention. In spite of these varied activities he finds time to serve as a director of both the Blue Ridge and the Georgia Numismatic Associations. As a speaker on the educational forum, Bennett will draw on significant and newly discovered facts about Georgia gold coins in a talk entitled "Templeton Reid - Assayer of Gold."

An international flavor is given to the program by the second speaker, Miguel L. Muñoz, president of the Sociedad Numismática de Mexico. He lives in Mexico City and is a manufacturer's representative of steel materials. After primary schooling in Mexico he graduated from Erasmus Hall high school and New York university.

Muñoz's reputation as a numismatic scholar is truly international in scope. He has received honorary memberships from the Sociedad Numismática del Perú, the Academia Uruguaya de Numismática y Bibliofilia, the Asociación Numismática Española, the Sociedad Numismática de Puebla, and the Aztec Numismatic Society. Both the American Numismatic Association and the American Numismatic Society are proud to have Miguel Muñoz among their members.

In his extensive travels he has visited most of the numismatic organizations in South America and Europe. Numismatists in Warsaw, Krakow, Prague, and in other cities in Europe know him as a friend and scholar. In June he attends the centennial celebration of the Société Française de Numismatique in Paris, where he will speak on the French influence in Mexican numismatics. His speech on the A.N.A. educational forum, entitled "Mexico 1536: Prima Numisma America," concerns the clash of two monetary systems.

Thomas W. Becker, who lives in a suburb of St. Louis, Mo., will deliver the third forum speech. Becker is best known in Numismatics for his extensive writing. His book, World Commemorative Coins: Their Meaning and Symbolism, published by Whitman Publishing Company in 1962, is a standard numismatic reference volume. More than thirty of his articles have been published, and a second book will be released soon. A recent article, "Saint Louis Celebrates," was read into the October 23, 1964, minutes of the Congressional Record by Rep. Lenore K. Sullivan of Missouri.

Becker served in the U. S. navy for three years after completing high school. He attended the University of Missouri and received a bachelor of arts degree in 1958. Today he spends most of his time teaching high school geography and history and performing research in various areas of the history of money. His educational forum speech, "A History of Minting Methods," will cover mint techniques from before 600 B.C. to the introduction of powered coin presses.

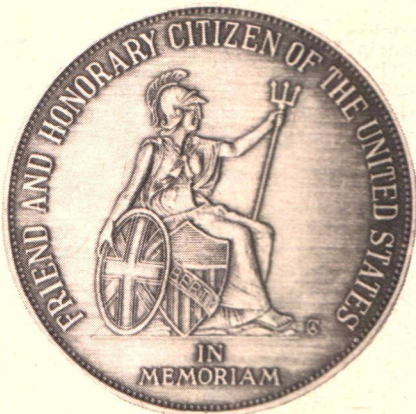

For the second consecutive year the Treasury department is sending a most talented administrator and speaker to the A.N.A. convention to participate in the educational forum: Assistant Director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing Frank G. Uhler. His home is in Alexandria, Va.

Uhler received bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees from Indiana university before joining the bureau of engraving and printing in Washington, D. C. During his 25 years at the bureau, he has successively held positions as research chemist, head of the research laboratory, chief of research and development engineering, and assistant director. His extensive research in the field of currency production and associated government printing qualifies him eminently to speak on "The Modernization Program in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing."

The 1965 A.N.A. educational forum will be moderated by Charles R. Hoskins, assistant to the director of the Money Museum of National Bank of Detroit. A native of Ohio, he graduated from Ohio university, served as a commissioned officer in the army, and was in television station work before joining the Money Museum staff in 1961. Hoskins served as moderator at the Cleveland convention in 1964 and was a speaker on the educational forum at the 1962 Detroit A.N.A.-C.N.A. convention.

CHURCHILL MEDAL

Va. This is the third in the current events series, the earlier medals featuring Barry Goldwater and President Lyndon Johnson.

PNG HOLDS FIRST SHOW: PLANS A SECOND

Collectors and dealers alike agree that the first Professional Numismatists Guild show held at the Palmer House in Chicago, Ill., March 5 through 7 was an excellent show. Despite snow and icy roads, low temperatures and transportation difficulties, attendance reached heights beyond the fondest expectations. While the figures are not yet in, estimates range between 5,000 and 7,000 registrants for the three days.

Security measures planned by the committee, of which Ben Dreiske was chairman assisted by Sol Kaplan and David Shapiro, were such that the only items lost were a brief case containing papers and a nickel dropped by a collector. In fact, an unusual situation developed, wherein a collector brought a bank note in a cellophane holder to the registration desk. He had found it on the floor. An announcement fetched the owner who could satisfactorily identify the note.

Spacious bourse spaces, limited to 50, were well stocked with choice and rare items and buyers seemed well supplied with what it takes to do the buying. Dealers reported good purchases as well. The proof of the success of the show is that when Ken Nichols, chairman for the next PNG show, visited the dealers, each and every one he saw reserved space.

Exhibits were outstanding, too, with wide variety and top quality from the collections of Art Lovi, Fred Marckhoff, John J. Pittman and the Roshholm collection. PNG exhibits were made by several members, including Leo Young and A. Kosoff.

An educational program featured two speaking sessions and a booth at which inquiries could be made concerning any numismatic problems. Participating were John J. Ford, Jr., Eric P. Newman and Don Taxay.

The enthusiasm of the listeners created a housing problem and the room assigned for the forums proved to be too small requiring a move to larger quarters. The reception and subsequent comments insures this type of program in the future.

The press which co-operated so beautifully with PNG was well represented and the American Numismatic Association, too, had its first vice president and several board members there as well as the business manager, editor and assistant editor of The Numismatist.

Close to 150 attended the cocktail party and banquet on Saturday night. The food was great and the speeches nil. A few remarks by President Abe Kosoff and a presentation by Art Lovi to Sol Kaplan on behalf of the Florida United Numismatists for his years of help to the FUN shows was followed by dance music and a most humorous hour of professional entertainment M. C.'d by PNG's Tommy Ryan who sang several songs to show he hadn't lost the touch he used to have when he was vocalist with Tommy Dorsey's band some years ago.

On the tail of the successful first PNG show in Chicago, a second one has been scheduled for the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles on October 14-17. Ken Nichols of Costa Mesa, Calif., is the PNG chairman for this fall meeting, with assistance from Jerry Cohen, Harold Goldberg and Abe Kosoff.

"Those who have attended conventions at the Statler-Hilton in Los Angeles know of its wonderful facilities for our event," said Nichols. "A PNG show, with the unusual material offered, promises to attract collectors and dealers from all points," added the chairman.

Another attraction, now in the making, will be a convention in Honolulu the weekend preceding the Los Angeles show. The Hawaii committee indicated a desire to attract PNG members and an attempt to fix the October 8-11 dates is being made. Thus a trip to Hawaii and its many attractions, the Honolulu convention, and then the PNG show in Los Angeles could be managed within a 10 day span, including two weekends. Further announcements on this will be forthcoming soon.

Eight dealers have been elected to PNG membership: Ralph Goldstone of Brookline, Mass.; Harold Goldberg of the Superior Stamp and Coin Company of Los Angeles, Calif.; Thomas P. Warfield of Baltimore, Md.; Yvette Haas of New York City; Manuel Lipson of Boston, Mass.; John J. Ford, Jr., of New Netherlands Coin Company; Joe Gaidar of Chicago; David Shapiro of Rare Coin Company of America. Catherine Bullowa, membership chairman, reported that a dozen applications are being processed.

A.N.A. NOMINATIONS REPORT

The following have been nominated, prior to April 26, 1965, for A.N.A. offices for the 1965-1967 term. Further nominations may be made by any member, including affiliated clubs prior to June 11, 1965. The final report, including pictures of the candidates and personal data supplied by them, will appear in the July issue.

Nominations must be sent in writing to the Office of the Executive Secretary. They will not be acknowledged, but the nominee will be notified. Any nominator may submit additional nominations or withdraw any that were made previously if this is done prior to the closing date as mentioned above. Nominations made near the closing date should be accompanied by written acceptance of the nominee.

Election is by mail ballot only and ballots will be mailed to each member about July 1st. They must be returned and received by the official C.P.A. tabulating firm on or before August 10, 1965. They may not be delivered at the Convention.

What Has A.N.A. Done for Me?

In the last eight months, while soliciting numismatic items to help in building a national home and headquarters for the American Numismatic Association, I have been asked the above question many times. In spite of its frequency this question always amazes me, for the unbelievable naivete of one who claims to be a collector, a numismatist and especially a professional dealer in asking this question is rather shocking. It is like asking what has my mother done for me? Or what has my country done for me? Such a person might even say, when asked to pay a school tax, what did those kids ever do for me?

Truthfully, I have little patience with the collector or dealer who indicates his colossal lack of knowledge of the growth of numismatics in the United States and Canada by asking this very naive question. For, had it not been for the A.N.A., chances are better than 9 out of 10 he would not be collecting coins, or dealing in them, and he would have to look in the dictionary to find out what a numismatist is.

The organization of the A.N.A. in 1891 and the beginning of The Numismatist, whereby new members were not only accepted but their names and addresses were published in the magazine and in the directory, was the start of coin collecting on a national scale for the common man. Through this double listing method, the A.N.A. introduced newcomers to coin collecting throughout the nation, to the older established collectors and vice versa, not on a mass scale but on a personal and individual basis. The A.N.A. was the only national numismatic organization to do this 75 years ago and it is the only one which does so today. This fact alone establishes the A.N.A. not only as the beginning but as the very heart and soul of numismatic growth in this country. For with the personal acquaintanceship of two or more men comes the interchange of knowledge, trade and commerce.

But the A.N.A. did more! It was the first and, I believe, the only national fraternal numismatic organization not only to demand that its members conduct their numismatic affairs in an honorable manner but to suspend or expel and to publish the names of members who were so convicted. Thus the A.N.A. membership card became a national badge of honor and, incidentally, a valued and recognized informal credit reference. In 25 years of nationwide mail order business, we have accepted an A.N.A. membership number one year old as equal to a bank reference, and one five years old as good as two banks. Thus, whatever integrity there is in numismatics today, the A.N.A. is responsible to a great extent for fostering, and should be given due credit.

Yes, for 75 years the A.N.A. has lighted the way and been the leader in numismatic progress in this country by taking the few lonely and scattered collectors of three quarters of a century ago and bringing them together as the nucleus of a happy, honorable and nationwide family. It planted the acorn that grew into the mighty oak of today. Present A.N.A. officials would be the last to say that it has achieved every desire, or fulfilled every potential. But once again the A.N.A. leads the way, in its farsighted project to establish a headquarters to better serve collectors in every way.

So let the few critics stand on the sidelines and cry because the unpaid officials of the A.N.A. have not solved every numismatic problem from cradle to the grave, while the fault-finders devote their time to counting their numismatic profits. Let them cease the selfish wail of "what has the A.N.A. done for me?" and just once ask themselves "what can I do for the A.N.A.?" What can I do to make the A.N.A. an even more valuable organization?

For, with the generous financial support that the A.N.A. is receiving from sincere and farsighted members in its present building project, and with the present dedicated and dynamic board of governors, every collector, great and small, private or professional, can be certain that the A.N.A. will, in the future as in the past, represent not only the leadership but the lifeblood of American numismatics. — AL C. OVERTON, A.N.A.

Obituaries

EDWARD FOGLER, A.N.A. LM 121

Edward Fogler of Oakland, Calif. died December 14, 1964. Born in Strasbourg, Alsace-Lorraine, on October 18, 1886, he came to this country in 1906. Enlisting in the army in 1913, he saw service on the Mexican border and in World War I.

Fogler became interested in coins in 1939, joined the A.N.A. as No. 7759 that year, and in 1946 became life member No. 121. He was a diligent worker for numismatics both locally and nationally and was one of the founding members, No. 5, of the California State Numismatic Association. He was A.N.A. district secretary for Northern California, chairman of the 1946 convention credentials committee and a member of the 1949 San Francisco convention committee. He served for two years, 1947-1949, as a member of the A.N.A. board of governors, and it is possible that he holds the individual record for sponsoring members into the Association. He was awarded its coveted medal of merit in 1955, and in 1964 received the 25 year continuous membership award.

Fogler became a professional numismatist after a serious elevator accident forced him to retire from his vocation. He established the East Bay Coin Shop in 1952 and later worked for Leo A. Young until his retirement in 1963. In the passing of Edward Fogler, numismatics and the A.N.A. have lost a long and faithful servant. — JWO, LAY

GEORGE FRED BROWN, A.N.A. NO. 1886

Pause we must and give expression to our sorrow, an interesting life has ended. George Fred Brown, born in Delaware, Ohio, April 8, 1875, passed away April 11, 1965, at 90 years of age in Pasadena, Calif.; interment Oakwood Cemetery, Chicago, Ill.

Here was a man of gentle manners, given to intelligent understanding, and a definitive knowledge which won admiration, the respect, and the love of all of us. We of his era will find it difficult to adjust to his absence.

He joined the A.N.A. in 1917 as No. 1886, sponsored by F. J. Loer and Ted Leon; also he was a member of the Chicago Numismatic Society, A.N.A. Branch No. 1 and Charter Member No. 31, 1919, Chicago Coin Club.

He rendered many contributions to the societies which he graced, principally his work and writings from 1917 to 1924 in Volumes 30 to 37 of The Numismatist concerning war prison camp tokens and inflationary monies.

Retirement took him in 1941 from the Chicago department of streets, a position in which an alertness and lifetime energy had occupied his daily time, and moved to California. There he retained an undiminished interest in numismatics until death.

Flora M. Brown, his widow, who survives him also shared in common an admiration, interest, and love for numismatics and its society. George merits our remembrance of the pleasant memories he provided at our meetings and we now feel it appropriate that we read this of the First Psalm:

"Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly
Nor standeth in the way of sinners
Nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful
But his delight is in the law of the Lord."

LAURA M. CADDY, A.N.A. NO. 14829

Miss Laura M. Caddy, 75, died on March 29 at her home in Lakewood, Ohio. She was president of Ensign Products, manufacturer of industrial paints and finishes, which she founded in 1930.

Miss Caddy was well known in her area as a collector, exhibitor and writer, but was most widely known for her activities as secretary of Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs, Inc. from 1960 to 1964. As a tribute to her outstanding contribution in this capacity, she was appointed honorary chairman of its board of governors recently. An 18 year member of A.N.A., she took an active part in the national conventions at Cleveland in 1954 and 1964, being in charge of the banquet last year. She was active in the Cleveland Coin Club and a member of the Cleveland Museum of Art.

So long as Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs continues its prominence in the field of numismatic organizations, no other monument will be needed to the memory of Laura Caddy. Survivors include a sister, Mrs. Arthur Davies, and a nephew, William A., who is vice president of Ensign Products.

Book Reviews

A Guide Book of Modern United States Currency by Neil Shafer, Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., 1965, board covers, 160 pp., illus., $1.75.

If you are one of the many collectors of small size U. S. paper money, you will recognize the need for publications in this field which, until recently, was badly neglected. This new guide book contains a wealth of information for both the new and the established collector on all facets of modern size currency issues from 1929 to the present.

The book opens with a glossary of currency terms and follows with a "Brief History of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing," based on the Bureau publication of that name. Pages 98 through 102 contain a history of the proposal to adopt the Philippine size of paper currency for use in the United States, a subject on which the author is well informed.

Thorough coverage is given to each of the six types of notes issued since 1929, with complete information supplied by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, showing the amounts delivered of each note by denomination, type and series. All notes are listed according to the new Donlon simplified numbering system which readily allows for inclusion of new notes as they appear. Valuations are given for notes through the $100 denomination in two to four conditions, and for sheets in new conditions. Also included is a limited section illustrating and describing error and freak notes, though no attempt has been made to list their values. This facet could, and should, be expanded in future editions.

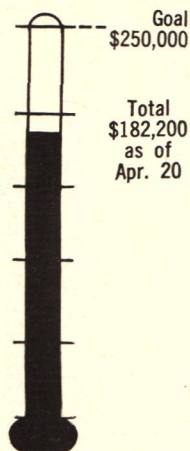

The book comes in an attractive hard cover of Kerry green, with silver stamping. It contains 160 pages and is available at most book stores and coin dealers for $1.75. In all probability this "Green Book" will become the standard for small size U. S. currency, just as Whitman's "Red Book" is the standard for U. S. coins. — J. GREBINGER

The Barbaric Tremissis in Spain and Southern France, Anastasius to Leovigild, by W. J. Tomasini, A.N.S. monograph 152 (1964), American Numismatic Society, New York City, N. Y., paper cover, 302 pages, 46 plates.

Essentially, this monograph is a detailed study of the rare Visigothic gold coins struck during the 5th and 6th centuries, A.D., imitative of and bearing the Imperial Byzantine name. The author, in an attempt to better classify this series, has divided the coins into seven major and numerous minor groups on the basis of variations in style, type, and inscription. The catalog contains 660 specimens described in detail. The plates are good, and with numerous line drawings in the text, clearly illustrate the author's points. It is must reading for serious collectors of the coinages of this era. It is ironical that this book precedes the Hispanic Society publication by Philip Grierson on the same series, since the author frequently refers to this unpublished manuscript. This is an excellent work, up to the high standards maintained over the years by this monograph series. — J. LHOTKA, JR.

Project Making Rapid Progress

For many decades A.N.A. followed the usual course of a scientific organization, being a small institution with many ambitions which the limitation of its funds and facilities prevented being fulfilled except in an imperfect way. Then came the recent explosive growth of numismatics and a new idea. Why not transform the Association into a more effective vehicle for the advancement and enjoyment of numismatics? Why not give it the funds and facilities to do this job? The idea caught fire, and the response of the numismatic fraternity has been tremendous.

Funds are rapidly being made available with $182,200 now on hand and pledged. Several teams are working under the guidance and coordination of a steering committee on various phases of the big project. One team is engaged in studying organizational changes and probable future activities, plans and budgets, to determine the kind of organization needed in A.N.A.'s new facility. Another team is considering plans and designs for the facility. A group of experts is planning the numismatic museum phase of the project. Within the organization the executive secretary is heading up a study of the present and future needs, problems and space requirements. A.N.A.'s consulting architect is making site studies and surveys preliminary to completing negotiations for a building site.

All this work and activity spells out progress toward the realization of A.N.A.'s signal idea and goal. And now new developments and fine contributions continue to mark the project's progress.

Sixteen Cities Offered Sites

We are mighty proud of the recognition and enthusiasm displayed for our Association's project by the sixteen fine American cities which offered free building sites and other inducements to obtain the new national headquarters. It is not easy to get big cities to give away building sites free, and when sixteen of them voluntarily cut through the necessary red tape, meetings and councilmatic action to make concrete offers, it leaves us somewhat overwhelmed. Many of these choice sites carried substantial five figure price tags, or could not be bought at any price because they were on publicly owned property. Needless to say, A.N.A. has something to offer, and after looking us over the city dads liked it and courted us. Perhaps many of us, also, should take a second look at our fine organization and its potential, for sixteen cities and their capable civic leaders know a good thing when they see it. Do you and I also know a good thing when we see it?

Good Sports and Losers

Sterling Harrison, in a letter enclosing a $250 contribution from the Evansville Coin Club, wrote: "We tried (for the A.N.A. headquarters) and naturally we are a little disappointed that we didn't get it, but we won't quit . . . here's our first contribution to become a 250 club and, what's more, the profits from our regular auctions for the balance of the year will be given to the building fund." The Boeing Coin Club of Wichita sent an additional contribution of $150 for its total of $250 to become a 250 club also, "for a very worthy cause, even though Wichita was not selected as the headquarters location." Mayor George H. Shirk of Oklahoma City wrote: "A.N.A. has my very best wishes on the future of the museum, and I am certain it will be a tremendous success."

Stack's Is Second Benefactor

Stack's of New York City, one of the country's foremost numismatic firms, has become the second A.N.A. benefactor. To attain this permanent and honored position, Stack's has joined those who are placing a sound financial foundation under our important project. In a manner fitting to its position, Stack's made a substantial contribution of collector's items valued at $10,000 to the A.N.A. to be sold at the Houston convention auction in August and the proceeds placed in the building fund. Benjamin Stack, in transmitting this fine gift, said: "We are behind this necessary and constructive step of the A.N.A. We believe it will do much for the betterment of numismatics and we are proud to be able to do our part, which we feel is also a fine investment in the bright future of collecting and numismatics."

In accepting this gift in behalf of A.N.A., Charles M. Johnson of the fund raising committee replied: "The A.N.A. is very happy to receive this splendid support from Stack's and to see this important name added to the rapidly growing list of contributors to A.N.A.'s big project."

At the recent Central States convention in Chicago, auctioneer Charles French sold the fifth platinum medal donated to the A.N.A. building fund by the National Commemorative Society. This piece brought $2,250 and, since the previous four brought in excess of $2,000 each, this firm will become a benefactor when the proceeds reach the Association shortly.

Novel Gift Made by Hepner

In the finest tradition of our numismatic fraternity, an A.N.A. old timer, A. Hepner of Miami, Fla., wrote: "For over 65 years my membership in the A.N.A. has given me tremendous pride and satisfaction. Now I have the opportunity of paying a little of that debt. My A.N.A. number is 187, so I am enclosing my check for $187 for the building fund."

Ernest Weidhaas, A.N.A. 11587 of Pelham, N. Y., contributed a collection of so-called dollars valued at $1,040 to the building fund. James Kelly, LM 83 of Englewood, Ohio, added a nice check for $500. The Arizona State Numismatic Assn. sold its No. 1 bourse table for its 1966 convention to Robert M. Flinn for $130 with the proceeds going to the building fund. Presidential Art Medals, Englewood, Ohio, contributed medals valued at $1,400 to the fund through the Houston convention auction. Mr. "Anonymous," who is No. 1970 in this month's list and who contributed $500 as No. 83, has paid another $600 toward his ultimate goal of $2,000. Many other fine gifts are recorded in the list which follows.

Omaha Site Negotiations

After receiving the approval of the A.N.A. board for Omaha and three alternate cities and sites for the new headquarters, the site selection committee commenced negotiating for the acquisition of the Omaha site. A serious problem developed when the 27,750 square feet of area offered in Omaha's brochure checked out to be substantially short of that size.

It is felt that A.N.A. needs all the original 27,750 square feet for its building, landscaping, parking and future expansion. "If we cannot obtain this area in accordance with Omaha's original offer within a reasonable time," said Charles M. Johnson of the site selection committee, "then we have no alternative than to withdraw from Omaha and proceed to negotiate for an alternative site in accordance with instructions from the A.N.A. board of governors." This is the situation at this writing, with the possibility that A.N.A. may investigate further the offers of Colorado Springs, Oklahoma City and Kansas City, in that order.

Are You Doing Your Part?

Is your name on the published honor roll of contributors whose foresight and support is helping build this fine facility? When it is completed and doing its job for the advancement and increased enjoyment of numismatics, will you be able to say proudly that you helped make it possible? Will your earthly existence and enjoyment of the hobby be marked by your contribution to its improvement for yourself and for posterity? Will this fine leisure time activity be better because you participated in it? These are questions each of us should ask ourselves.

The A.N.A. goal is $250,000, to be reached by the time of the Houston convention in August. This goal is now in sight with the fund thermometer at $182,200. Will the goal be reached on schedule?

If you have not helped already, do it right now. Why wait any longer? Mail your check to A.N.A. Executive Secretary Don Sherer, 3520 N. 7th St., Phoenix, Ariz. 85014. Remember, your contribution is tax deductible and will benefit you through the advancement and enjoyment of numismatics.

JUBILEE MEDALS OF FRANCIS JOSEPH I

By

WALTER P. HUBER

THE jubilee medals of Emperor Francis Joseph I of Austria were issued in 1898 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of his reign. There are three different types:

Jubilee medal for the armed forces in gold and bronze.

Jubilee medal for civil servants in bronze.

Jubilee court medal in gold, silver and bronze.

The first two types are so similar in design that I will discuss these together.

The 1898 jubilee medal for the armed forces and the 1898 jubilee medal for civil servants were instituted by Francis Joseph I of Austria-Hungary on Aug. 18, 1898, on the occasion of the approaching 50th anniversary of his accession to the throne (Dec. 2, 1898).

The medal for the armed forces was issued to all persons serving or having served in the armed forces or the gendarmerie during his reign, Dec. 2, 1848 to 1898. Those with 50 years or more of service were issued the medal in gold.

The medal for the civil servants was issued to all persons irrespective of sex, who had been in civil service during the same period designated for the other medal. All public officials and servants active on Dec. 2, 1898, received this medal. All those with 10 years prior uninterrupted public service were entitled to this award.

The obverse of these two medals shows the bust of Emperor Francis Joseph I in field marshal uniform facing right. The inscription around the edge reads:

(a) Medal for armed forces: FRANC. IOS. I. D. G. IMP. AVSTR. REX. BOH. ETC. AC. AP. REX. HVNG.

(b) Medal for civil servants: FRANC. IOS. I. D. G. IMP. AVST. REX. BOH. ETC. ET REX AP. HVNG.

The reverse is the same on both medals. Within an open wreath, tied at the bottom with a double bow, consisting to the left of laurel and to the right of oak, is a rectangular shield with the inscription SIGNVM MEMORIAE (token of commemoration) in two lines. In the upper part, along the edge, are the Roman figures MDCCCXLVIII - MDCCCXCVIII (1848 - 1898).

The medals measure 33 mm. in diameter for which J. Tautenhayn Jr. made the dies. The medals are suspended by a small sharp edged loop through which passes the ring for the triangular ribbon.

The gold jubilee medal for the armed forces is topped by a 15 mm. high golden double headed eagle with a plain wire loop and ring on its flat reverse. The ribbon for the armed forces medal has a width of 33 mm. and is poppy red, in contrast to the one for civil servants, which measures 40 mm. in width and is half white and half poppy red.

Only 27 gold jubilee medals for the armed forces were awarded:

Feldzeugmeister (master-general of the ordnance) Friedrich Freiherr v. Beck, chief of the general staff

Feldzeugmeister Wilhelm Freiherr v. Reinländer, inspector general of the troops

General of the Cavalry Joseph Prince of Windisch-Graetz, captain of the life guards

General of the Cavalry Eugen Freiherr v. Piret de Bihain, captain of the life guards

Feldzeugmeister Ludwig Fabini, commander of the 8th corps

General of the Cavalry Johann Freiherr v. Appel, commander of the 15th corps

Feldzeugmeister Archduke Rainer, chief commander of the imperial royal militia

General of the Cavalry Archduke Joseph, chief commander of the royal Hungarian militia

Lieut. Field Marshal August, prince of Windisch-Graetz, chief official in charge of the plate

Lieut. Field Marshal Johann Edler v. Horrak, inspector of the gendarmery

Maj. Gen. Emanuel Cjeticanin, commander of the gendarmery corps, Bosnia

Feldzeugmeister, Heinrich Freiherr Giesl v. Gieslingen, Ret., colonel in chief of 16th infantry regiment

Upper left, the Austrian 50th anniversary jubilee medal of Francis Joseph I; this is the regular medal on red ribbon for the armed forces. Upper right, the obverse of the medal given to civil servants on the emperor's 50th anniversary with ribbon half red and half white; inscription differs slightly from that used on the armed forces medal. The reverse shown is common to both medals.

Feldzeugmeister, Johann Freiherr Koblitv. Willmburg, Ret.
Feldzeugmeister, Hugo Milde v. Helfenstein, Ret., colonel in chief of 17th infantry regiment

Lieut. Field Marshal, Eduard Ritter v. Bergler, Ret.

Lieut. Field Marshal, Josef Ritter v. Blaschek, Ret.

Lieut. Field Marshal, Heinrich Pelican, Ret.

Lieut. Field Marshal, Bernhard Dobler v. Friedburg, Ret.

Maj. Gen. Anton Sabransky v. Thalbrück, Ret.

Col. Alois Hauer, Ret.

Obertierarzi (chief veterinarian) First Class, Sebastian Neumann

Adm. Alexander Eberan v. Eberhorst, Ret.

Adm. Maximilian Freiherr v. Pitner, Ret.

Feldzeugmeister Gustav Freiherr v. König

Lieut. Field Marshal Franz Ritter v. Gammel

General of the Infantry Franz Freiherr v. Wimpffen

Emperor Francis Joseph I wore this one with the reverse in front.

Probably the most interesting person of these dignitaries is Sebastian Neumann, chief veterinarian first class. Since he is not listed in the 1848 schematism (list of military officials) it is assumed that he started at the bottom and worked himself up to his high position during 50 years of service.

The third medal, the jubilee court medal, was instituted by Francis Joseph I, also on the occasion of his approaching 50 year jubilee, for all persons who had served on the emperor's staff or at court between Dec. 2, 1848, and 1898 (Inst. Oct. 21, 1898).

The highest court officials, the adjutant generals, the ministers of the imperial and royal house and of foreign affairs; the director of the cabinet chancellory, and the director general of the supreme private and family funds received the medal in gold.

Officers of the life guards, the court marshal of Hungary, court officials; the general manager of the court theaters; the officers at court, the court clergy, the court physicians, members of the court orchestra, and the court music ball director were awarded the silver medal.

Finally, the medal in bronze was issued to court servants, minor court officials, and the enlisted men of the life guards.

Obv., bust of the emperor in field marshal uniform facing right.

Rev., Inscription in five lines: FRANCISCVS. JOSEPHVS. I. / QVINQVAGENARIU.
REGNI / DIEM. FESTVM. CELEBRANS / II. DECEMBRIS / MDCCCXCVIII. (Francis Joseph I celebrating the festive day of 50 year reign, December 2, 1898).

The oval medal measures 39 mm. by 31 mm. Its weight is 16 grams in silver (without suspension). Michetschläger also mentions a smaller medal for the ladies, to be worn on a bow.

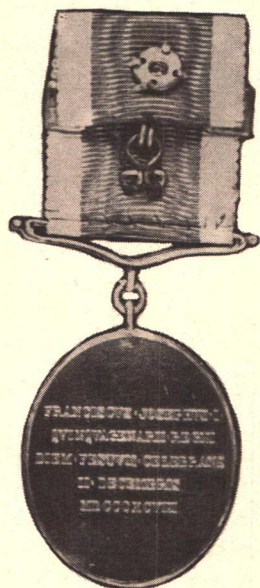

The medal for military personnel is suspended by a round loop and ring and is worn from a triangular ribbon. Attached to the ribbon is a bar of the same metallic composition as the corresponding medal. The bar measures 8 mm. by 52 mm. and bears the inscription 1848-1898. The ribbon measures 38 mm. in width, is poppy red, with 5 mm. white edges.

The medal for civilians is suspended by a round loop, ring, and a 36 mm. wide flat clasp through which the straight ribbon passes. The ribbon measures 30 mm., is poppy red, with 5 mm. white edges. On the ribbon is placed a bar measuring 7 mm. by 31 mm. with the inscription 1848-1898.

The medal was to be worn after the 1873 war medal, but before the other two jubilee medals of 1898. The ribbon alone could not be worn. No diplomas were issued.

The firm Jauner made 12 regular pieces and four sample specimens of the gold medal. The 16 pieces were distributed as follows, as of Jan. 25, 1899:

- 2 gold medals, supreme office of the court steward
- 2 gold medals, supreme office of the exchequer
- 1 gold medal, supreme office of the court marshal
- 1 gold medal, office of the equerry

Upper left, the court jubilee medal of Francis Joseph I was awarded to court officials who were civilians; its ribbon is red with white edges. Upper right, the court jubilee medal given to military personnel; its ribbon is red edged in white. Reverses of these pieces are similar.

- 5 gold medals, aide-de-camp generals
- 1 gold medal, cabinet chancery
- 1 gold medal, general directory of the supreme funds
- 2 gold medals, ministry of the exterior

The last medal was retained by Emperor Francis Joseph, but he never wore it.

The gold jubilee court medal for military personnel was awarded only six times:

General of Cavalry Eduard Count Paar, adjutant general of the emperor
Feldzeugmeister Arthur Bolfras v. Ahnenburg, chief of the military chancellery of the emperor

General of Cavalry Christoph Count v. Degenfeld-Schonburg, colonel-in-chief of the 83rd infantry regiment

Feldzeugmeister Leonidas Freiherr v. Popp

Lieut. Field Marshal Rudolf prince von u. zu Liechtenstein, colonel of the imperial and royal life guards Feldzeugmeister Friedrich Freiherr v. Beck, chief of general staff, who also received the golden jubilee medal for the armed forces.

An unusual attraction was a display of treasures from a Spanish ship that was sunk off the Florida coast in 1773. The best of show marble trophy award went to Tom Shelnick, a Pittsburgh scuba diver, for his beautiful display of Spanish gold doubloons, silver pieces of eight, silver and gold nuggets, cannon balls and other trinkets of value found in the deep waters. The jaw bone of one of the 22 sharks killed by the divers during the treasure hunt was on display and attracted much attention. Jim Kirkwood of Cleveland, considered the top paper money exhibitor in the United States, displayed his famous collection of paper money of British Colonies. Dealers and collectors from a wide area of the north central U. S. and Canada braved blizzard weather to attend the 30th annual Northwest Coin Club show in Minneapolis on March 19-21. While weather conditions reduced attendance the first day, the next two days made up for it with estimates of total attendance being in excess of 15,000. The spacious ballroom of the Nicollet Hotel was crowded most of the time, and NWCC President Gail Wilkerson and General Chairman Harvey Bultman were joined by the 54 bourse dealers in terming the event a huge success. In addition to 5 television shows, radio and newspaper coverage, the Club had a display of 26 cases at the Bank of Minneapolis all week. Much of the visitors' attention was commanded by the exhibits which, in addition to the rare 1913 Liberty nickel and 4 flying eagles in proof, included competitive exhibits in 8 categories. Award winners were: U. S. coins — Charles Robinson, 1st, Jackie Janecke, 2nd, and J. Mortimer Pugh, 3rd; coins prior to 1500 A.D. — John Hartman; foreign coins since 1500 A.D. — Paul Mullaney, and Robert E. Smith; paper money — R. Twelve members were present to see the excellent A.N.A. slides on Ancient Greek coin types. Charles Nims read the descriptions provided while David Boufford projected. Sam Jillette exhibited and described many interesting ancient coins of the period 700 B.C. to about 300 A.D. Jillette's son, Penn, gave a brief talk on how to pan gold. Future educational meetings are planned for the first Wednesday of each month. — MAURICE BARRETT, Pres.

Barry Renwick gave an interesting talk at the April 2 meeting of Regina (Canada) Coin Club, A.N.A. 29916. He used parts of his own collection to illustrate the collecting of coins by types. After discussion, it was decided to hold a two-day show on Oct. 23-24 with Ray Miller as chairman. Miller was also nominated for the office of C.N.A. director for Saskatchewan for the coming year.

A new attendance record was set by the Elkhart (Ind.) Coin Club, A.N.A. 54760, when 100 members and guests showed up for the April 6 meeting at the Gas Company building. President Bellamy explained to guests the advantages of belonging to and attending a coin club, stating that the beginner has more to gain than the experienced collector from seeing exhibits and hearing talks on coins, tokens, medals and paper money. Vice President Robert Coates showed a rare set of Maundy money from England and explained that, in a custom which is eight centuries old, Queen Elizabeth will hand out to her guards as many sets as she is years old. Refreshments were served by Ernest and Mrs. Ulery. Harold Grieb of Elkhart was awarded a proof set for bringing 7 guests to the meeting. — LUCILLE BRIDENSTINE, Sec.

The Covington (Va.) Coin Club, A.N.A. 34842, had 51 members at its March 27 meeting at the City Hall. Club member Thomas Dixon, a student at Greenbrier Military School, spoke on Germanic coinage from Charles the Great, 790 A.D., and gave a vivid word picture of the complexities of this coinage through the centuries. It was decided to hold a coin show at the National Guard Armory on Sept. 11-12 with R. G. Haymaker, president, as the general chairman.

A panel of 4 "experts" answered questions for the 70 members and guests at the 1130th meeting of the Rochester Numismatic Association, A.N.A. 1629, on March 9. Taking the place of a single speaker at this meeting were Leonard Babin, William Elston, George Killian and Ed Quagliana. Questions ranged from those on the future of silver coinage to counterfeiting mint and proof sets, and the origin of the Fugio cent attributed to Ben Franklin. It was a most worthwhile and enjoyable meeting.

A very distinguished speaker, in the person of Past President Alphonse Kolb, also an engraver of club medals for over 40 years, spoke at the 1131st meeting of RNA. In a talk on "The Origin of Coins," Kolb emphasized how historical facts and events are recorded on coins and medals. Several coins and medals were shown as illustrations as he made all present aware of another of the pleasures arising from collecting numismatic items. A large 16th century medal depicting Adam and Eve highlighted the exhibits. — PAUL A. KRAEMER, Corr. Sec.

At the 69th meeting of North East Ohio Coin Club, A.N.A. 34000, at the Charter House in Cleveland on March 16, President Jerome Price introduced the members who won awards at the Randy Hall and Herman Pressman, program co-chairmen, presented a quiz contest in which many of the 197 in attendance took part and several received coin awards for correct answers. Members were asked to bring questions to future meetings with which to stump the experts. — MRS. HENRY ENGLEMAN, Publ. Chm.

At its March 24 meeting, the Topeka Coin Club, A.N.A. 7505, elected new officers and voted to hold a coin show in late summer or early fall. Consideration was given to hold two meetings a month rather than the one held presently. New officers are President Robert P. Nothnagel, Vice President Frank D. Urbanek, Treasurer John N. Main, and Secretary Robert E. Oshel, a senior at Topeka (Kans.) High School. Outgoing President J. F. Zimmerman was given a unanimous vote of thanks for his work during the past year. — ROBERT OSHEL, Sec.

The April 1 meeting of Muscle Shoals Coin Club, A.N.A. 33635, was attended by 45 members and guests. It was devoted largely to making final plans for observing National Coin Week, for which we have scheduled exhibits, talks, a special meeting and other activities. The 119th meeting of Monterey Park Coin Club, A.N.A. 25300, was attended by 135 members and guests who heard Tom Wood, A.N.A. building fund representative, tell the history and functions of the A.N.A. and seek donations for its new home and headquarters. Clifford Kreizel won the trophy for the best display of the month with a very appropriate theme: Irish coins displayed on shamrocks. Paul Schymos displayed Civil War tokens, and A. Houston Barry proudly displayed his completed coins of the world book. It really takes effort to fill the last few places — I know, because some of mine are still empty. Our drive to collect 1965 dues was aided by Dave Haigele who gave a 10% discount at his bourse table to all paid up members. We have been most fortunate in holding members and can boast of several charter members still in good standing. Five new members were accepted at the March meeting. — VERA SCHYMOS, Corr. Sec.

The Atlantic City Coin Club held its March 28 meeting at the Ritz Carlton Hotel with 81 members and guests in attendance. In addition to an altered 1914-D cent made from a 1944-D, exhibited by LeRoy Church, other exhibitors were Sara McNeill and Terry Gaston. Marty Weissman received the A.N.A. educational award for his recent outstanding exhibit of New Jersey depression scrip. Our monthly meetings are held the 4th Sunday afternoon at the Ritz Carlton Hotel, Iowa Ave. on the Boardwalk in Atlantic City, N. J. — JIM MCNEILL, Pres.

The Lake Region Coin Club, A.N.A. 51238, has adopted a novel charter membership card. It is an ordinary printed card on which a shiny Lincoln cent is mounted and the entire card plasticized for permanence. On the back of the card, "CAVEAT EMPTOR" is printed in bold type. Two of the forty members, which covers several counties, are Canadians. Meetings are held the second Sunday monthly in the community room of the Ramsey National Bank. S. coins and other factors were considered. Chairman Louis Goldsmith of the Canadian Numismatic Association's 1965 convention, of which this Society is the host, reported on the planning and asked for volunteer help and exhibits. — BARRY UMAN, Sec.

Peggy Borgolte had as her subject "Picayunes" at the April 11 meeting of Southern Hub Coin Club, A.N.A. 29238, at the Lennox Woman's Club in Inglewood, Calif. The 85 persons present enjoyed Peggy's talk as she took us back to the 18th century and told about a coin that was used mostly in the southeastern states but was accepted for nearly 200 years in Louisiana. The word "picayune" means something small or insignificant; the coin by that name being a quarter of a real or 6¼ cents. She told many interesting facts about the 8 real Spanish coin, commonly called "Pillar Dollar," of which the picayune was a fractional part. Some were surprised to learn that there is a newspaper called "Picayune" and a street in New Orleans by that name. Peggy had her collection of these and other coins related to the early history of the area on exhibit at the meeting for all to enjoy. Program Chairman Walter Snyder presented a beautiful speaker's plaque to Mrs. Borgolte for her interesting and educational presentation. President Hall thanked C. A. Dunbar for the donation of the "Peace Garden Medal," the Conejo Valley Coin Club for 3 sets of wooden nickels, and Norma and Gene Calkins for 6 extension cords for our new lights. The 1st place exhibit trophy went to Mel Kohl for his "Crowns and Dollars of the World"; 2nd place, a tie, went to Ann Hall and Bill Sadler; and 3rd to Joy Parrish. Other exhibitors were Minerva Axelrod, W. K. Erdman and Dorothy Sorenson. President Hall welcomed back Mel Fishel who had been hospitalized for major surgery, and also announced that Joe Goodyear had a stroke. He referred to the Pomona Valley (Calif.) coin-a-rama to be held June 12-13 at the fair grounds. We welcome visitors to our meetings the 2nd Sunday afternoon and feel that they can always expect to learn something about numismatics. — ANN M. HALL, Publ. Chm.

Berry Smith, president of Midwest Numismatic Association, announces that its second annual coin show will be extended this year to three days, starting on June 18. He also states that 20 per cent of the profits from the show, to be held in the President Hotel in Kansas City, Mo. will be donated to the fund for building a home and headquarters for A.N.A. Admission will be free as it was last year when over 2,500 persons attended. Bourse dealers at the 62 tables will be members of either A.N.A. or MNA, as will the exhibitors also. Chairman Robert Fox, Temple Bldg.,

Kansas City, Mo. 64106 states that competitive exhibits will be judged by A.N.A. point system standards. There will be showings of a numismatic educational film each day, an auction by Phil MacKay of Kansas City, and a Saturday evening banquet.

The Saline Coin Club, A.N.A. 48399, plans to hold its fourth annual show Nov. 6-7 at the VFW Bldg. in Marshall, Mo. Bourse Chairman Vincent Hagedorn may be contacted at 676 S. English, Marshall, Mo.

All persons interested in transportation tokens are invited to attend the annual convention of American Vecturist Association, A.N.A. 17300, on August 6-8. It is to be held in the Hotel Empire, opposite Lincoln Center in New York City. Chairman Foster B. Pollack may be reached at 1841 Broadway, Room 808, New York, N. Y. 10023. — DONALD N. MAZEAU, Sec.

On April 10 the Collectors Club of Boston, A.N.A. 28048, celebrated its 20th anniversary at a banquet attended by 133 members and guests at Valle's Steak House in Newton, Mass. It was an evening of remembrances, and one of the founders and still a most active member, Maurice M. Gould, gave a little history of events of the past 20 years. He also honored the past presidents. The highlight of the evening was guest speaker Margo Russell, executive editor of Coin World, who was presented a beautiful Revere silver bowl engraved with the honorary title "Numismatic Woman of the Year." She spoke on many facets of numismatics and discussed the possible change in our silver coins and what may happen if it occurs. She related some of the humorous situations that arise in the offices of Coin World, and held a question and answer period at the conclusion of her talk. We found her to be a delightful person and all of us became better informed from her remarks. It was truly a pleasing evening and one to be long remembered. — SARA ABRAMSON, Publ. Chm.

Officers of the Cleveland Coin Club, A.N.A. 14890, for 1965 are: President Bill Halliwell, Vice President Carl DiFalco, Treasurer Robert Croyle, and Secretary Marjorie Gold. At the March 17 meeting in the Statler Hilton Hotel, President Halliwell spoke on obsolete bank notes. He differentiated between the terms "obsolete notes" and "broken bank notes" by saying that the former are notes no longer having money value while the latter are notes of banks that failed and are no longer in business. He said that the most difficult Ohio notes to find are the high denominations of 50, 100 and 500 dollars, and the Kirtland Safety Society notes signed by Joseph Smith, founder of the Mormon Church. Halliwell spoke especially of the Citizens Bank of Louisiana, strongest bank in the South, whose notes were printed in both English and French. The French "DIX" for "ten" on the back of the $10 notes led to the phrase "Land of Dixies" from which Dixie Land was derived and about which Dan Emmett wrote the song which became the Confederate war song. The talk was well illustrated by slides of various notes to which reference was made. Visitors are welcomed to our meetings the 1st Wednesday evening monthly in the Statler Hilton Hotel. — ROSE ENGELMAN, Publ. Chm.

(Editor's note: The author of "Dixie," written in 1859, wrote a song titled "How Are You, Greenbacks" in 1863. Both songs were written for The Bryants, the most popular minstrel company of the era. There are other theories of the origin of "Dixie," but we prefer the one referred to by Halliwell.)

The Forest City Coin Club, A.N.A. 40454, held its 5th annual show at the civic auditorium in Forest City, Ia., on April

Forest City award winners include, l. to r., Mrs. Andrew Klitgaard, J. Mortimer Pugh, Arnold Swanson, Dan Wiseman, Bud Montgomery, Mrs. Arnold Swanson, Don Jensen, David Heisterkamp and Tim Casey.

10-11 and, although the weatherman failed to cooperate, about 1,500 persons attended. General Chairman Eugene Morris stated that the exhibits were better than in previous shows and that dealers had an excellent variety of material for sale. Two state organizations furnished best of show trophies since the Club is a member of both INA (Iowa) and MOON (Minnesota). Dan Wiseman of Austin, Minn., won the INA trophy with his display of medals, while the MOON trophy went to Mrs. Arnold Swanson of Des Moines, Ia., for her Canadian coins. Other first place trophy winners were: Bud Montgomery, U. S. coins; J. Mortimer Pugh, paper money; Eugene Morris, odd and curious; Don Jensen, gold; Arnold Swanson, ancient coins; Mrs. Andrew Klitgaard, foreign coins. Among the junior exhibitors, Tim Casey and David Heisterkamp were trophy winners. The Club donated $50 to the A.N.A. building fund. — DR. M. J. THOMPSON, Publ. Chm.

The April 13 meeting of Essex County Coin Club, A.N.A. 28780, was held at the Crestmont Savings & Loan in Maplewood, N. J. with 55 members and guests attending. We learned that our application for incorporation by the state has been approved. There was discussion of our 9th annual show to be held Sept. 12 at the Robert Treat Hotel in downtown Newark, the same location as the past several years' shows and readily accessible by all means of transportation. Raymond Byrne of Pittsburgh was nominated for the A.N.A. board of governors, and the recent Mexican proof set fiasco was aired. "Know your dealer" is a very good slogan, if you really know him. — JAMES A. BROWN, Sec.

Although no formal address was given at the April 12 meeting of Missouri Numismatic Society of St. Louis at Hotel Sheraton-Jefferson, the 125 members and guests found that the evening's program reflected the Society's interest in the advancement of numismatics and related activities. Among the features was the initiation of an intensive personal contact A.N.A. membership drive and fund raising campaign for the benefit of its building project by MNS Vice President and A.N.A. Representative Edward Boehme, Sr. Boehme signed up several new A.N.A. members and collected $56 during the evening, both phases of which he hopes to increase significantly in the near future. Publicity Chairman Bernice Stevenson spoke about the A.N.A. national home and headquarters project, and also about the Central States April convention in Chicago. She also announced the Smithsonian Institution National Museum annual report listing of the MNS contribution of a counterstamped Maria Theresa taler. These pieces were presented to MNS members on the club's silver anniversary, Feb. 10, 1964, and to the A.N.A. collection and other appropriate organizations. Potential donors to the Truman Library collection will be interested to know that the piece was refused there because the library's collection is confined to numismatic material fitting the U. S. presidential theme. Mrs. Stevenson reported the recent theft of 34 of these counterstamped Maria Theresa talers and requested that any suspicious quantity holders of them be reported to MNS President Albert Wick at P. O. Box 2641, St. Louis. Members were most pleased to learn of a visit to St. Louis by A.N.A. Secretary Don Sherer to explore the city as a potential site for the 1970 A.N.A. convention under the auspices of MNS.

Program Chairman Mel Hock presented A.N.A. educational award certificates to the following members-speakers for the subjects noted, observing that inquiries had been received on some of the speeches from such places as Arizona, Michigan, New Jersey and New Mexico: junior member Dean Braun — "The Lincoln Cent"; William R. DeClue — "Basic Information for Foreign Coin Collecting"; junior member Barry Faintich — "Morgan Dollars, A Good Investment"; Jerry W. Hillebrand - "Coins in Religion - Religion in Coins"; Melvin A. Hock - "Early American Colonial Coins"; Arno Meyer - "Stars - Clay - and Man"; Joseph Rataj - "Background & History of the U. S. $1 Bill"; Harold Spradley - "Ancient Coins," and John S. Stevenson - "Danish West Indies Coinage." These handsome certificates were viewed with pleasure by their recipients and other members, and it is believed they will prove to be a real incentive to potential speakers. Through the efforts of President Al Wick on behalf of the Society, an official proclamation issued by the then City Mayor Raymond R. Tucker was displayed. It proclaimed the week of April 24-May 1 as National Coin Week in St. Louis and requested the appropriate observance for the occasion. Board Member Gus Pries and Vice President Edward Boehme, Sr., will have extensive exhibits in two local banks during NCW. Member Walter Burke solicited information pertaining to proof coins and patterns since 1900 of Portugal and its colonies for inclusion in a catalog which he is writing. Festival Chairman Dave Cooper announced that 55 of the 60 bourse tables for the Society's 6th annual coin festival have been sold. The auction for the show, which will be held August 21-22 at Hotel Sheraton-Jefferson in St. Louis, has been awarded to Joseph's Coin Shop, 1555 S. 39th St., St. Louis. Cooper also announced that exhibits will feature a most unusual collection of rare 1st edition numismatic books from the library of member Eric P. Newman. Five new members were sworn in and six persons interviewed for membership. - BERNICE STEVENSON, Publ. Chm.

The Saginaw Valley Coin Club, A.N.A. 17628, was host to the 9th annual spring convention of Michigan State Numismatic Society April 2-4 at the Bancroft Hotel. About 1,500 persons attended, including the ladies who enjoyed a style show and tea arranged by Gael Thompson and Eileen Lange. In addition to a large membership of individuals, the Society now has 56 club members. It will institute a new style bulletin to be called the Mich-Matist, and has "new club" kits available as an aid to those wanting to form new clubs. A group of paper money collectors in attendance held a meeting for the purpose of forming a "Paper Money Club" within MSNS. Awards were presented to the winners among the 38 exhibitors at the Saturday evening banquet, the Irving M. Moskovitz Award for best in show going to John S. Northcott. Winners in the various classes were as follows: U. S. coins - Dick Moore, 1st, Charles Petrie, 2nd, and Carl Reff, 3rd; paper money - Milton Crooks, Mrs. Milton Crooks, and George D. General Chairman William Thompson expressed his gratitude for the help and team effort which made the affair a real success. The 1965 fall convention of MSNS will be held in Detroit in November, and the 1966 spring convention in Grand Rapids. - CARL REFF, Publ. Chm.

Rudy Leuckart was the speaker at the 522nd meeting of Western Reserve Numismatic Club, A.N.A. LM 32, on April 14 in the Statler Hilton Hotel in Cleveland. Speaking on "Crowns of the World," Leuckart said the U. S. silver dollar is the most important coin today in this class, and that its longevity exceeds that of many crowns of other lands. In this country, the dollar was originally the counterpart of the Spanish milled dollar, which was lawful tender in the U. S. until 1857. The very first accepted crown was the joachimsthaler of 1518, minted in Bohemia, said Leuckart. Within 30 years most European countries had a similar piece as standard in their own coinages. The word "crown" was first used in England in 1551. Most crowns contain from 50% to 92.5% silver, but lately many countries have used copper-nickel or other alloys. All in all, about 125 countries have issued "crowns" by one name or another. Leuckart had a display of about 200 crowns, the largest and nicest such display we have seen in a long time. Other exhibitors included Judge Sawicki — medallions of the 12 Roman Caesars; Fred Rosenthal — a W. H. Key medal of Lincoln's assassination and others relating to the event a century ago; Wm. Solomon — a 15 shilling New Jersey note of 1776 in an old frame; Joe Lucas — coins and tokens depicting persons who smoke, and with anti-tobacco mottoes; Joe Exler — an Ecuador crown made into an ash tray; Larry Freeman — a 37 inch, 28 pound aluminum cast of the original Cleveland 3 cent transportation token with the picture of Mayor Tom L. Johnson framed in its center. The 3 cent token and fare was established in 1908. This cast piece was located in the garage of a relative of an employee in Johnson's office. President Freeman hit the jackpot when the owner read of the search for the piece and telephoned its whereabouts. — FRED HAHLEN, Sec.

Kenneth E. Balge, a special agent of the U. S. Secret Service, was guest speaker at a combined meeting of the Columbus Numismatic Society, A.N.A. 4052, and the Hilltop Coin Club at the Hilltop YMCA in Columbus, Ohio in April. Balge, who entered the Secret Service in 1948 and has been in charge of the Columbus office since February 1962, spoke on "Counterfeiting and Current Money Regulations." In addition to protecting the president and vice president of the United States and their families, the Secret Service is responsible for suppressing counterfeiting of coins, paper money and other federal obligations. The speaker cited portions of the U. S. Code relating to money and told of some investigations of counterfeiting cases. He spoke about the recent smuggling into this country of phony gold pieces that were made in foreign countries to resemble rare U. S. gold coins. He discussed in considerable detail the phrase "with intent to defraud" as it relates to the laws designed to protect our money. Charles Hoff spoke on protecting valuable collections, stressing insurance, keeping material in a safety deposit box, securely anchored home safes, and keeping information about collections from everyone not known to be reliable. Displays were shown by George Andrews, Charles Case, Don Devore, Garry Doeringer, Don Hern and Vence Travato of the Columbus Club and Denver Hart, Ray Linville, Jr., Otis

Lowe and George Marx of the Hilltop Club. — HARRY A. MOWERY, Publ. Chm.

The Casper Coin Club held its April 19 meeting at the Henning Hotel in Casper, Wyo. with 40 members present. Bob Clemens delighted us with a talk on the Maria Theresa taler, a coin with mysterious, universal appeal, considered by many to be the world's most beautiful coin. No other coin in history has quite the history of romance and intrigue behind it that this silver taler minted in honor of the Empress Maria Theresa in 1780 has. It is still being minted with the original date and is trusted and even demanded in the Middle East and North and East Africa. Christians and Moslems, new nations and old still look to it as the "world coin." Club members will place interesting exhibits in 4 local banks during National Coin Week, April 24-May 1, to acquaint others with the hobby and its educational value. The A.N.A. committee on NCW hopes to shatter all records this year and this Club plans to do its part. — MARGARET G. RODEN, Sec.-Treas.

Edward W. Sprigg spoke on coin and stamp insurance at the 243rd meeting of the Birmingham Coin Club, A.N.A. 11590, at the Thomas Jefferson Hotel. The 43 members and guests in attendance were much enlightened by the talk and the question and answer period which followed. Sprigg emphasized the pitfalls of homeowners policies for this kind of protection and stressed wider coverage and a proper way to insure collections under an Inland Marine form of stamp and coin floater policy. C. L. Rousseau extended an invitation to members to attend the 1st anniversary meeting of the Huffman Coin Club on May 10 and announced that the program would be on U. S. paper money by our own President John H. type sets; Henry Watkins — Austrian commemorative coins; Marie Rousseau — Siamese porcelain coins; and Penny Cunningham — her entire gold collection of a 25c and 2-50c California pieces and an 1854 U. S. gold dollar, plus 2 gold nuggets in a miniature holder. — OPAL H. MORRIS, Corr. Sec.

Also, it is dated 1965, which isn't an easy date to acquire in the U. S. The design and lettering on both sides is incused and printed in brown color. They are available at 25c each from Thomas C. Atkinson, P. O. Box 2383, Baton Rouge, La. 70821, who will appreciate stamped and addressed envelopes with requests.

The 75 members present at the Lynwood, Calif., Recreation Hall were happy to congratulate Mel Kohl for winning the best of show award again at the Monrovia-Covina coin-o-rama. SCADDEN, Corr. Sec.

John M. Sullivan, Jr., a past president of the Santa Barbara Coin Club, A.N.A. 29611, related his experiences as a member of the 1965 Assay Commission to the 70 members and guests at the Club's April 19 meeting. Sullivan began with an account of the early days of the commission, which was fostered by Alexander Hamilton as a means of checking on the employees of the mint and giving confidence in the quality of U. S. coins. It is, Sullivan pointed out, one of the oldest federally appointed commissions in the country, having been formed in 1792. It is also unusual in that it reports directly to the President of the United States its findings as to the weight and purity of coins containing silver or gold. He pointed out that the 20 members of this year's commission represented a cross-section of the country geographically and that many members were numismatists. At the actual meeting of the commission, the members were divided into 3 groups, one for checking the count of sample coins reserved (1 of each 10,000 struck), one to check the weight of coins from the samples, and the third making a chemical check to determine that the metals in the coins were in the proportions specified by law. It was surprising to find that weights and the metals in sample coins adhered so close to the legal requirements.

The commission members made a tour of the Philadelphia mint which, Sullivan felt, was doing a most commendable job of producing coins on a limited budget, in an old building with much of the equipment out of date. He felt that the commission should include in its report to the President its observation as to the quality of the striking of the sample coins, and the commission unanimously adopted his motion that this be done by future commissions. In closing his most interesting account, Sullivan said that "it is by custom and not by law that an individual can serve only once in his lifetime, so this was my first and last time." He displayed the official commission signed by President Johnson and the specially struck medal presented to all members of the 1965 Assay Commission. — GWEN SENTIS, Sec.

(Editor's note: The report submitted of Sullivan's talk did not mention that members of the Commission do not receive any compensation and are not reimbursed for their expenses in connection with attending the meeting. It is strictly an honorary appointment.)

Two popular attractions were enjoyed by the 58 members and guests at the April meeting of the Pico Rivera Coin Club, A.N.A. 48234. First was a coin quiz conducted by Leonard Ratzman in which Sol Taylor, one of our new members, won an uncirculated silver dollar. The second was the Easter goodies made and served by Xenia Kreizel as refreshments. Mrs. Kreizel also made a coconut cake rabbit and donated it to the Club auction. The display trophy was won by R. B. Carter with a large portrait of Lincoln backed by $5 bills and framed in antique wood. First prize went to Sol Taylor for his display of English farthings and second to the secretary for her nearly filled book of coins of the world. Visitors are welcomed to our meetings the 2nd Tuesday monthly in our pleasant meeting room in the North Ranchito School in Pico Rivera, Calif. — VERA SCHYMOS, Sec.

The Shreveport Coin Club, A.N.A. 37869, is taking part in the commemoration of the centennial of the last lowering of the Confederate flag in Shreveport on May 26, 1865, for which a medal has been struck. Slightly larger than a half dollar, the obverse of the medal features a bust of H. W. Allen, Louisiana's fiery governor during the War between the States. The scene of the last lowering of the Confederate flag, with the old Caddo Parish courthouse in the background, is depicted on the reverse with the date and appropriate wording. The Holiday in Dixie organization issuing the medals stated that not more than 50 would be struck in gold at $50 each, 250 in silver at $5.00 each, and that 3,000 in bronze have been ordered to sell at $1.50 each. The gold, silver and first 250 bronze pieces are numbered, and a set of the three sells at $55.00. Mail orders are being accepted at the Holiday in Dixie Office, P. O. Box 1485, Shreveport, La. They are being filled as received at the above prices plus 10% for postage and handling on all mail orders. — AVA SETZER, Club Publ. Chm.

A letter was sent to the Thunder Bay Coin Club in Fort Williams, Canada, inviting it to form a sistership with our club. — MRS. VIRGINIA BRONSON, A.N.A. Rep.

Leon Rosenblum received the A.N.A. educational award certificate at the April 21 meeting of Bergen County Coin Club, A.N.A. 22867, for his talk at the March meeting. Leon's subject was the 1965 U. S. Assay Commission, of which he was a member, its 3 committees, 21 members and their various duties at the commission meeting. We thank Leon for sharing this rich experience which must be the dream of every coin collector. Leon displayed his Assay Commission medal and the certificate of appointment signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson. A feature of the evening was an auction of items donated by members for the benefit of the A.N.A. building fund. A member in California sent an Australian crown to be sold, since he could not attend, and some made cash donations. Before the meeting closed it was announced that $200 had been raised, more than enough to put the Club in the 250 Clubs class of donors. Our 11th birthday will be observed at the May 19 meeting, which will be held as before at the Rustic Lodge in E. Paterson, N. J. — HELEN SCHRADER, Rec. Sec.

UNCIRCULATED WASHINGTON QUARTERS

The coin with a real good future! These were minted during the depression years when people could not afford to save money — they spent it. Circulated these coins are common; uncirculated, scarce. Also this is probably due for our next design change.

COIN ALBUMS

With interest in Aussie coins at an all-time high, Whitman is proud to announce a series of new albums to house them: The two volume Bookshelf Album provides space for a complete Australian collection. The first volume is devoted to pennies, halfpennies and all six of the forthcoming decimal issues. The second volume is for silver coins. Each volume is beautifully bound in royal blue embellished with gold.

Eleven economical Whitman Coin Folders will hold the complete range of pre-decimal coins from 1910 through 1964. A favorite among collectors, Whitman Coin Folders open flat for inspection yet fold to book-size for easy storage. A separate page provides pertinent information on the coins. Whitman Coin Folders are available for Australian Halfpennies (2), Pennies (3), Threepence (1), Sixpence (1), Shillings (2), Florins (1), Florins and Crowns (1).

THE COMING AGE OF ENGLISH COINS

by Paramount International Coin Corporation

In the latter part of 1964 Paramount International Coin Corporation purchased a remarkable collection of English coins. Built with painstaking care by one of Britain's foremost numismatists, this collection contained literally dozens of rare and scarce coins . . . including many of which only a few were struck. In the columns to follow we present to you many of the gems from the Britannia-Collection. We do not know what our response to this listing will be, but if previous listings (containing only a few scarcities) are any indication the response should be overwhelming.

In reviewing our listing of English coins for sale do not equate in your mind the terms "rare" and "expensive." In the United States series the two are often synonymous. It would be difficult to imagine a regular date and mint-mark of a United States coin in the 20th century which was legitimately rare and which was, at the same time, inexpensive. Try as we might we can think of no United States coins which fit this description. On the other hand, the same is not true at all in the British series. In our offering of coins from the Britannia-Collection you will notice that there are numerous pieces of which only a dozen, a half dozen or fewer were struck. These rare Proof coins (the ultimate in condition) are not priced at many thousands of dollars . . . but are mostly in the $100.00 to $300.00 range! In a few moments, a selection of coins from the Britannia-Collection . . . But first, a few words concerning English coins in general:

As strange as it may sound, the field of 20th century English coins was virtually "undiscovered" until just a few years ago! In the United States only a handful of collectors concerned themselves with English coinage. At the same time United States coins were breaking new price records whenever offered. Coins of England were largely ignored. This same situation prevailed in England. For several centuries England has had a hard core of numismatic devotees. Indeed, many of the most scholarly works on numismatics produced during the past two centuries have been by English authors. However, with all of this interest in numismatics few people collected 20th century coins. Most popular were classical Greek and Roman coins plus "traditional" English coins such as Anglo-Saxon, hammered and other early issues. Except for the crown-size coins (which have always been popular) coins of the past 150 years were neglected.

In 1960 the farthing denomination (one-fourth of a penny) was demone-tized. Beginning early in 1961 banks were ordered to call them in from the public. Unissued farthings in banks plus those garnered from people throughout Britain were returned to the Royal Mint where they were melted.

Although they did not circulate actively in later years due to their low buying power, farthings were always a sentimental favorite with Englishmen. When notice was given that farthings were to be redeemed this caused much interest in the newspapers. Stories were published concerning farthings. Public interest was heightened. All over Britain people's attention was called to farthings. Many, for sentimental reasons, endeavored to assemble a complete set of dates. It was soon learned that certain dates were scarce. These rare dates could not be found in a given batch of a few hundred or even a few thousand farthings. Accordingly many people visited dealers in and around London seeking to purchase these dates. "I am sorry, we don't handle modern farthings." This was an all-too-typical reply to the person desiring to fill his sets.

What happened since then is a matter of record. Much of it has been reported in American numismatic periodicals. Collectors in England had their interests widened to include halfpennies, pennies and then the larger denominations.

At the same time, interest was beginning to stir in America. A few years there were only two or three firms which advertised English coins to any extent. These firms, and the customers they attracted, seemed to be the only ones interested. However, that too is now a part of history. Collectors all over the United States became interested in English coins. In the beginning collecting was difficult. There were no up-to-date reference books published in this country. There were no albums or folders in which to store coins. Collectors had to be content with obtaining price information from auction records, dealers' price lists and wherever else they could glean a valuation. For storage one had to be content with storing coins in envelopes.

With the growing interest the leading numismatic suppliers investigated the English market. The Coin and Currency Institute of New York City published "The Coins of the British World" by Robert Friedberg. This large volume listed coins of England and the colonies by types. Whitman Publishing Company released "A Guide Book of English Coins" by Kenneth E. Bressett. This book, based on the format which was so successful with "A Guide Book of U. S. Coins," gave collectors valuable information concerning mintages, designers, etc., together with an outline of prices. Soon afterward, Whitman Publishing Company issued a number of new titles in their popular 35¢ blue folders. These folders provided spaces for collecting some of the more popular issues from 1860 to date.

More and more people in America became interested in British coins. Since 1961 the number has grown from just a handful to at least several thousand people at the present time.

However, the best part of the market lies ahead. From our present position in 1965, the British coin market is still underdeveloped. We are only now seeing the beginning of quality collectors' albums such as the Whitman "Bookshelf" line which has recently made its debut in the British field. Prices are low. Legitimately rare coins may be purchased for modest sums. As was true with the United States market two or three decades ago, scarcities can be purchased in quantities of several dozen or several hundred pieces (if one checks numismatic advertisements in the 1930's one can find rolls of such pieces as 1909-S VDB cents in Brilliant Uncirculated condition offered with some frequency . . . such offerings are virtually unheard of today).

The Canadian coin market provides an interesting parallel to the English coin market. Until the early 1950's there was little interest in Canadian coins. Since that time the market has progressed rapidly. Now there are any number of reference books, periodicals and publications, albums, supplies, etc., available. The Canadian market is big news in the United States . . . witness the tremendous overflow of Proof set orders in January, for instance. Canadian coin prices are also just a shade of their former selves. A 1921 Canadian half dollar, of which approximately fifty are known according to the latest reference books, is now a $10,000.00 to $15,000.00 coin in Uncirculated condition! The 1923 Canadian cent of which over one million were coined now commands a price of several hundred dollars in Uncirculated condition and a not-very-small price in just EF condition. However, the Canadian field once offered the opportunities provided by the British field today. We remember when 1921 Canadian half dollars were worth $500.00 to $1,000.00 each. Persons purchasing them at that time, when the market in the United States and Canada was limited to only a few thousand collectors, have seen their money multiply ten or twenty times in intervening years. Likewise with other Canadian rarities.

The same, of course, is true in the United States field. However, in the United States field one must go back twenty or thirty years to find such a comparison. However the comparison is vividly there if you take the time to search.

At the present time the English market is dynamic in growing. As we reiterated a few paragraphs earlier, the interest is snowballing in America. Five or ten years from now we would not be surprised if 25,000, 50,000 or more American collectors were seriously interested in collecting English coins . . . and seriously interested in paying top prices for scarce pieces. In England the market is also dynamic, healthy and growing. The numismatic things which we take for granted here are virtually unknown in England. Yearly "Guide Books," albums and folders, coin conventions, mass-circulation, numismatic periodicals . . . all of these are either just beginning or are non-existent in England. And yet, they all surely will come . . . in time.

From a strictly investment viewpoint there are many ways of judging a market. One is by estimating its potential. In the paragraphs above we have stated explicitly and implicitly what we believe the potential is for the English market. The handwriting is on the wall ever so clearly. Another measure is to determine dealers' buying interests. In another investment field somewhat related to coins we recently observed the advice "Buy what the dealers are buying . . . they would not be buying if they did not expect to realize an attractive profit." In the field of English coins MOST BUYING IS NOW BEING DONE BY DEALERS! Query any American dealer who offers British coins for sale. Ask him where his orders are coming from. Chances are that he will tell you that other dealers are his best customers. Apropos of this, we might mention that we have resisted several requests to give specific dealers "first chance" at the gems in the Britannia-Collection. We felt that it was better to present them for a public listing . . . as we do here. Undoubtedly many of the orders from this advertisement will come from these same dealers who have made these inquiries.

The dealers are not only buying English coins in America, they are also the dominant buying force in England. It is probably no exaggeration to say that 75% of the buying in English sales is done by dealers! To be sure, some of these bids are on behalf of collectors who have furnished commissions . . . but many of the pieces are for dealers' stocks.

If you are looking for a youthful, vibrant, and exhilarating field we seriously recommend British coins. If your interest is from a collecting viewpoint you have many advantages. At the present time you can assemble complete or virtually complete sets by date and mint or by types at little cost. Condition for condition and rarity for rarity the price for English coins is but a mere fraction of what you would pay for comparable coins in the Canadian or United States field. If you are an investor the possibilities are obvious. The English field is virtually virgin territory. Here is an honest to goodness chance to get in on the ground floor. The market is not rampant for speculation. There are no huge hoards of overpriced coins overhanging the market. There are no artificial price structures or price rigging. The market is competitive. There is a tremendous buying demand on the part of dealers and collectors. Today's supply of coins is being widely dispersed and, prices are low.

In other words, from either a collecting or an investment viewpoint today's opportunities in the British field simply will not exist tomorrow. The market is moving forward. Are you going to move forward with it? If you are, the time to acquire choice material is now. With this thought in mind Paramount offers for your selection an array of beautiful, scarce and desirous English coins . . . including gems from the Britannia-Collection.

FARTHING

- 1798 Soho (Boulton and Watt Mint at Birmingham) copper farthing. Choice Proof of the copper "Cartwheel" design. Like the Cartwheel farthings of 1797, the 1798 issue was struck only in Proof condition; no additional pieces were struck for use as currency. The specimen we offer here is exceptionally choice 127.50
- 1826 Lovely Proof. The second type of this year showing the modified portrait of King George IV. Issued with the 1826 Proof sets . . . 70.00
- 1831 King William IV. Choice Proof originally from the specimen presentation set of this year. With only a few exceptions all English Proof sets are rare. Choice early Proofs from the specimen sets, such as these, are becoming increasingly hard to find as the small available supply is dispersed among an ever-widening circle of collectors. This lovely Proof 97.00
- 1860 Farthing. New bronze issue with beaded border . . . the first type issued this year. Beautiful Uncirculated, red toning to light brown 28.00
- 1863 Among collectors of the farthing series 1868 is regarded as the rarest collectable date of the Victorian bronze type (1860-1895). With the advent of new albums on the market the 1863 farthing is becoming increasingly important and increasingly in demand. Specimens are rare in all grades . . . from very worn pieces to mint state. Paramount offers a wide selection. Good $22.50; VG $34.00; Fine $52.50; VF $67.00; EF $77.00; AU with original lustre still remaining in areas 130.00

- 1875 Type with the obverse of 1873. Large date. Extremely rare in the choice grades we offer. VF $24.00; EF $40.00; Unc. red with subtle toning to brown 97.00
- 1895 Young Head. The 1895 Young Head is one of scarcest of the Victorian farthings and is numbered among the "keys." In 1895 most of the coinage was of the Old Head type, with only a few at the beginning of the year being of the Young Head style. VF $29.00; EF 40.00
- 1901 Last year of the Victorian coinage. The surface of these pieces is glossy black just as they were issued by the mint at this time. The purchase of a small hoard enables us to offer these for the attractively low price of just $3.00 each. At this price we must limit orders to a maximum of 25 per customer.
- 1907 farthing of King Edward VII. Unc. with surface like the preceding, as issued 6.00
- 1953 Queen Elizabeth II. As with all 1953 English coins the 1953 farthing is a very important "type." It was in 1953 only that the words "BRITT OMN" were added to the legend. We note that the new 1965 edition of "A Guide Book of English Coins" prices the 1953 farthing at $1.25 Uncirculated. Considering the demand and significance of this piece it is certainly worth it. We have just purchased a group of these pieces and offer them on a first-come, first-serve basis at 10 for $8.50, 100 for $68.00 or 300 for 185.00
- 1956 rare and desirable date. The low mintage (slightly less than two million pieces) has made this farthing extremely popular with collectors of British coins. This popularity is well deserved as the '56 farthing is scarcer than the United States 1950-D nickel, for instance! Selected Uncirculated single specimens sell for $1.50 to $2.00. For the investor, Paramount offers choice Brilliant Uncirculated 1956 farthings as follows: 1 to 25 pieces, $1.65 each; 26 to 100 pieces, $1.60 per coin; 101 pieces to 250 pieces, $1.55 per coin. The small supply we have on hand forces us to limit orders to a maximum of 250 coins.

- 1772 King George III. Obverse die with erroneous legend: "GEORIVS." Nearly fully brilliant Unc., very choice 38.00
- 1799 Well struck Proofs from the Soho Mint. At this time the Soho Mint was virtually the world's leader in coinage. With its improved die cutting and striking methods (steam was employed at Soho then, many years its adoption by the United States) Boulton and Watt succeeded in obtaining coinage contracts for Britain copper coinage as well as much coinage of the Commonwealth countries. We have a choice copper Proof for $52.50 and a choice gilt copper Proof for 55.00
- 1826 halfpenny. Choice Proof of King George IV. An especially sharp striking from the Proof specimen sets of this year 75.00
- 1831 choice Proof halfpenny of King William IV. A superb specimen from the Proof sets of this year. Seldom offered for sale 110.00

ENGLISH PENNIES

- 1797 The famous Soho Mint "Cartwheel" issue. Five or ten years ago these coins were fairly plentiful, and virtually every dealer in England had several of them in stock. Now the supply seems to have dried up as they are offered only infrequently. We offer a splendid copper Proof for $142.00 and an equally choice copper gilt Proof for 145.00
- 1806 Soho Mint issue with smaller bust of King George III. Choice Proof in copper $55.00, equally choice Proof in copper but gilt 57.00
- 1831 Choice Proof penny of King William IV. All coinage of William IV is scarce, especially so in Unc. or Proof condition. This choice Proof piece is an excellent value for only 155.00

ENGLISH TWOPENCE

- 1797 Soho Mint "Cartwheel" issue. These large pieces weighed 2 ounces each and were widely used by merchants, shopkeepers and others as a standard of weight measure. Of all English types the 1797 twopence is one of the most interesting and certainly one of the most popular. We offer nice VG specimens for $9.75 each, five for $45.00 and choice pieces for $15.00 each, or five for ... 65.00

SILVER THREEPENCE

- 1893 Queen Victoria Jubilee style. Extremely rare in all grades. One source of top condition threepence pieces has always been Maundy sets. Each Maundy set prior to 1927 contained a threepence of the regular design. However, in 1893 two types of threepence were issued, the Jubilee Head and the Old Head types. By the time of the Maundy set distribution on Maundy Thursday the design had been changed from the Jubilee type to the Old Head type, consequently threepences in the Maundy sets of the Old Head design. The 1893 Jubilee Head is generally regarded as the key date among 19th century threepences. Our Unc. specimen of light toning is well worth 125.00
- 1927 Silver threepence. Only 15,030 coined totally. None were released in circulation. As a date the 1927 is the rarest 20th century English threepence piece. It is in great demand by collectors in the United States and in England. We offer a sparkling gem for 95.00
- 1930 Gem Proof. This listing offers many one-of-a-kind opportunities. It includes many rare gems from the Britannia-Collection purchased by us late in 1964. These pieces were gathered over a period of years by one of England's most fastidious collectors and represents the absolute zenith in quality. With the exception of the sets which were issued to collectors and to the public (1927, 1937, 1950, 1951 and 1953) British Proof coins of the past half century are extremely rare. Proof sets of other years were only issued for presentation purchases to dignitaries, royalty and other prominent persons. The number of sets minted is estimated to be on the order of three to five sets per year. Consequently Proof

They are every bit as rare, if not much rarer, than United States Proofs of the years 1840 through 1855, for instance. Actually, their frequency of appearance on the market is much less. BRASS THREEPENCE

- 1937 King George VI. First year of issue of this reign and, as such, extremely popular as a type coin. We offer choice Brilliant Unc. pieces for $2.50 each, five for $11.00 and fifty for 95.00

SILVER SIXPENCE

- 1703 Sixpence of Queen Anne with VIGO beneath bust. From a historical viewpoint this and the LIMA pieces to follow are among the most interesting world coins ever issued. These VIGO pieces were struck from captured Spanish silver. Each coin was specially marked to commemorate Britain's naval triumph. EF $24.00; AU 45.00
- 1746 King George II sixpence with LIMA beneath bust. Struck from South American silver seized by the British. We offer specimens in three different grades: Very Fine $7.00, Extremely Fine $9.00, and lustrous AU 12.50
- 1787 King George III sixpence. Attractive issue with small bust of King George III appearing almost as a cameo. Choice AU 8.00
- 1831 King William IV sixpence. A very attractive Proof from the specimen set issued this year to commemorate the first regular coinage of this reign. Extremely rare 155.00

- 1839 Queen Victoria Proof sixpence, also from the specimen set . . . the first specimen set of this reign. In our opinion the 1839 coinage of Queen Victoria is among the most beautiful coins ever issued. It portrays Queen Victoria at her loveliest . . . the beautiful "Young Head" design. This magnificent Proof is worth all of 150.00
- 1927 sixpence. Second type of this year, issued only in Proof condition.

WE ARE DISTRIBUTORS OF THE OFFICIAL JOHNSON INAUGURAL MEDAL

Actual Size 2 3/4"

Silver, 2 1/2" $35.00
(Serially Numbered)

Bronze, 2 3/4" $5.00

This exciting medal, designed by Felix de Weldon, is struck in both Silver and Bronze by the Medallic Art Company of New York.

For the first time ever, the limited issue Silver medals are struck from a separate exclusive die. Previously, both Silver and Bronze Inaugural medals have been struck from the same die. Some attempts to counterfeit Silver medals by plating the Bronze medals have been made in the past. The Silver medals measure 2 1/2" in diameter, are serially numbered and limited to 10,000 pieces and are offered at $35.00 (plus 10% federal excise tax) each. The Bronze medals measure 2 3/4" in diameter, are a limited unnumbered issue and are offered at $5.00 each.

These coins are in the original Mint holders and were sold by the Mint as Proofs. However, we are selling these as Uncirculated coins in that Nepalese proofs do not meet the quality standard of other countries.

THE NUMISMATIST

70% CASH ADVANCE

THAT'S RIGHT ! ! ! ! We will advance 70% of the fair retail value of your collection immediately upon receipt. We will then sell your collection at one of our forthcoming auction sales and you will receive your final settlement within 30 days after the sale. Our commission rates are always reasonable.

During the time that your coins are in our possession they are stored in our protected and insured vaults. When you receive your advance check, if for any reason you are not satisfied with the amount of the check, just return it and your coins will be returned postpaid.

In many cases our advance will be almost equal to others offer of outright purchase.

If you are not currently on our mailing list, just drop us a postcard with your full name and address and we will place your name on our catalogue mailing list.

REMEMBER — It is not too late to have your collection included in our next outstanding auction sale.

OUR SALES ARE USUALLY HELD IN THE PARKER HOUSE

We are always in need of desirable numismatic material and will be happy to travel anywhere in the world to acquire it — either for auction or for outright purchase provided the value of the material warrants it.

NO COLLECTION IS TOO LARGE — We will furnish bank references upon request.

WE HAVE TO TRY HARDER!

WE AREN'T NUMBER TWO IN THE COIN BUSINESS. We aren't even number three or four. We aren't as big as we'd like to be, and may never be. Maybe we aren't even as big as we think we are sometimes. SO WE HAVE TO TRY HARDER! This is part of the staff. Give us a chance to show how hard we can try. Front row, left to right; Jennifer Lawrence, Mary Clair Ervin, Daniel T. Anderson, Mary Austin, Nelda Bennett. Back row; Randolph Kuriger, Lucille McHorse, Lou Reid, John Grayson, Francis Young, Art Jensen.

RIGHT NEXT DOOR to these new offices is the Main post office. Immediately behind these executive offices are the shipping department, and a vault. A street level entrance is into a retail store. This is likely the most efficiently arranged and situated coin dealership in the country.

SHIPPING DEPARTMENT processes several hundred orders a week (above). Teletypewriter room (below) maintains contact with hundreds of other dealers, keeps inventory fluid.

REISSUED AT LAST the definitive work on the U.S. cent-pieces of the early years of our Country, from 1793 to 1814 . . .

No More "Sorry, It's Out of Print"

The 1948 edition of this great book sold out . . . the 1957 edition, too, went "out of print." But now Dr. William H. Sheldon has authorized the reissue of Penny Whimsy. This third printing is just coming off the presses.

The author tells you the history of the "big cents", and how they possess "that quality of elusive mystery that adheres to them like a fragrance."

Penny Whimsy: Product of Research

When you get your copy of this reissue, you will learn how in a 10 year period Dr. Sheldon made at least six hundred changes in the condition census lists.

"Some of the new finds that have recently come to light had been in hiding more than fifty years," Dr. Sheldon tells us. But he has managed to ferret out and catalogue an immense variety of the "old coppers."

Bringing to Life America's Past

Here in these historic coppers, in that wonderful numismatic period of 1793 to 1814 covered by Penny Whimsy, one recalls, feels and relives the stormy but glorious past.

"For generations American school-boys bought, swapped or swiped old coppers," Dr. Sheldon relates. "Some of these boys, especially in older age, have returned to the early enchantment, there to forget or condone the singular incompatibility between human dreams and fulfillments."

Some Chapter Headings help convey the scope of Penny Whimsy. "Birth and Childhood of the Big Cents," is one. Others are: "Review of the Principal Cent Literature", "Toward a Science of Cent Values", and "The Early Cents, 1793-1814."

413 Illustrations . . . 392 Pages

This is a 'big book' — 413 pages, packed with history and facts. There are 51 plates, over 400 illustrations.

Penny Whimsy is $10.00. Order from:

BRILLIANTIZE

Makes copper, silver, other coins
Brilliant instantly . . . Safe for proof coins

CUSTOMER COMMENTS:

"Best I have found yet. No other has gotten the tarnish off my pennies so well."

"I recently purchased 75 nickels that were found by a skin-diver friend of mine in Lake Erie, these coins were very dirty and coated with about ten years of lime, etc. I cleaned most of them with BRILLIANTIZE and they are now in what I call Uncirculated condition, thanks for such a wonderful cleaner."

"I just cleaned a proof cent that I got at a real bargain and I made a perfect beauty of it."

Each kit consists of a booklet of instructions, applicators, a bottle of No. 1 Brilliantize which removes tarnish instantly and a bottle of No. 2 Brilliantize which makes the brilliancy long lasting. Brilliantize kits are complete, compact, well sealed and very convenient to use. There is nothing more to buy.

CONTINUITY

I'm quite content to stand aside and let modern proof sets follow their contrived gyrations.

But when it comes to older established foreign series I'm keenly competitive as always.

Why not consult me if you're thinking of selling your collection?

HASTY SELLING VS. QUICK BORROWING

Selling your collection can be profitable if you have enough time to find the best prices. But a collection sold quickly is seldom sold profitably.

In any emergency, borrow the money you need at Edelman's. Use your collection as collateral and still retain complete ownership.

At Edelman's, you can obtain quick confidential loans for any amount up to 80% of the value of your properties — from $50 to $50,000 and more. Take as long as 30 months to pay with a repayment plan tailored to your specific needs. Your collection will be safely protected in Edelman's air-conditioned vaults until you reclaim it. Write today for further information.
